

'Considerable Disagreement' Between City Manager, D.C. Fire Chief Over Operation of Fire Department

Pay Increase Drive Slows

Hopes of Daly City firemen to get pay parity with local police, along with a shortened work week and other fringe benefits, were all but dashed by City Mgr. Edward Frank last week. In a 25-page memorandum to the city council, Frank refuted the contents of a petition filed some six weeks ago by Firemen's Benevolent Association Atty. Richard E. Herndon seeking better pay and improved working conditions for the department's personnel.

Frank called any attempts to relate working conditions between police and fire a "fallacy which has continued for many years" and said the sole reason for equal pay in the two departments over the years was "political tradition."

Changes over the years have widened the gap between the two jobs, the city manager indicated.

In the last budget go-around police received a 10 per cent pay hike, while firemen were given only five per cent across the board, or, "exactly what they asked for," according to a city hall spokesman.

At the outset of a joint talk session between the council, city staff and Attorney Herndon last night, Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lysett made it clear that the veteran attorney was representing the firemen and not Fire Chief Herbert Ritzman.

Ritzman is considered to be "management" and not in the same position to bargain with the city council along with the firemen, it was explained.

The memorandum pointed out the fact that the council had either adopted full pay proposals made by the Personnel Board or exceeded them.

And Frank disagreed with Herndon's brief that the fire department was having a harder time recruiting personnel than the police department. While fire rosters are full, police ranks have ten vacancies at the present time, Frank said.

This situation exists even after police expended 720 days attempting to recruit men and the fire department devoted only 58 days in their recruiting drives.

"There is not any difficulty in recruiting personnel for the fire department, nor is there any reason to anticipate any difficulty in the future," Frank explained.

Significant advances have been made in pay for fire personnel, Frank said. Since 1963 firemen's pay has jumped 28.87 per cent; fire captain's pay by some 30.97 per cent, and battalion chief by 33.37 per cent.

Ritzmann Presents Analysis

By FRANK LAPIERRE

There is considerable disagreement between Daly City Manager Edward Frank and Fire Chief Herb Ritzmann regarding operations of the 65-man fire department.

In the wake of charges made by Firemen's Benevolent Association attorney Richard Herndon that the department was not only underpaid but undermanned and using an antiquated alarm system, City Manager Frank asked Chief Ritzmann for his views on the matter.

Ritzmann studied the matter and on October 23 sent Manager Frank a seven-page analysis which included his thoughts on manpower, non-fire suppression duties, alarm systems and comparing the duties of police with firemen.

The letter was never made public.

Frank chose to ignore the fire chief's recommendations and findings and on November 12 made public a 25-page reply to Herndon's petition — some six weeks after the attorney met with the council on behalf of the firemen during a study session.

Frank made it known that not only was the fire department fully manned, it was backed by a well-trained and well-equipped fire reserve brigade. The city manager countercharged that the department had been violating administrative directives from his office by not calling out the reserves immediately.

"The city administration has continued to maintain the two volunteer companies in order to provide readily available supplementary local manpower assistance — in contradiction to the continued insistence of members of the paid department that paid manpower is entirely adequate and that the volunteer companies should be abandoned," Frank wrote.

Ritzmann, quite the opposite, pointed out in his earlier letter to Frank, that "requests for additional personnel have been made for each of the last three years, but have been denied because of financial reasons."

The chief called the department "woefully undermanned" and explained that often apparatus leaves the station to answer an alarm with only the driver.

"No other city would consider sending out a $45,000 piece of apparatus without a captain, or junior officer, sitting next to the driver for guidance," Ritzmann informed the city manager.

Often as not, "first-in" fire companies arrive with a minimum of manpower aboard (due to present manning rosters sometimes being further shortened by illness, leaves, etc.) and rescues, fire suppression duties and related activities cannot be carried out efficiently, Ritzmann informed Frank.

But the paid fire department frowns on the use of the reserves "because we can't de-

BARTD Station Loss: Communication Gap

A communications gap has been blamed for Thursday's decision by BARTD directors to stop track construction short of Daly City because of the continuing hassle over station design.

Daly City City Manager Edward Frank said yesterday he has not been in contact with BARTD officials since a joint meeting with that agency and the Daly City council last June 20 in San Francisco.

"Daly City hasn't received anything from them (BARTD) since our last meeting in June — even though they promised we would meet and discuss the matter of station design after cussed and a list of stipulations were submitted by Daly City for study by BARTD at the meeting.

Frank said "that was the last we've ever heard from BARTD."

In the minutes of that June meeting it is recorded:

"On a motion of director Graves, the committee agreed to hold the item for further study and report by the staff of the effects of the eight provisions proposed by Daly City.

Previous to the San Francisco meet, several BARTD directors trooped to Daly City for an informal talk with the city council and staff over the station design.

The plan was to work out several disagreements that had

SCREEN FOR S.S.F. MANAGER

South San Francisco councilmen will hold a special personnel meeting tonight to begin screening applicants for the post of city manager.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli said 37 applications have been received for the position, vacated October 1 by the resignation of former manager, Eugene Aiello.

Only the written applications will be considered this week, the mayor said, and it will be "several days" before oral interviews are held and an applicant is appointed.

City Clerk Arthur Rodondi is now serving as interim manager.

Compromise On Foxridge Is Suggested

A compromise arrangement for the subdivision and sale of a portion of the Foxridge School site in South San Francisco was recommended by the city council on Monday after a three-hour appeal hearing.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli and members of the council adopted a resolution calling for a "7-5" division of the 11 parcels, with seven to be sold for residential development and five retained for landscaping.

Officials of the South San Francisco Unified School District, appealing an earlier planning commission decision calling for a "6-5" division, agreed to submit the council's recommendation to the district trustees.

The council acted upon the recommendation of Councilman Frank Mammimi, who has served as a "liaison man" since the controversy over sale of the lots first arose last summer.

The school district first applied for a "9-2" subdivision of the 11 lots, but the planning commission turned down the application.

The council later upheld the planners' first ruling. School officials then reapplied for the "9-2" subdivision.

Planning commissioners appointed an "ad hoc" committee to study the matter, and the committee recommended the "6-5" division.

Officials of the Westborough Homeowners' Association, chief opponents of the proposed sale of the school property, indicated (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

New State Requirement On 'Housing Element'

South San Francisco City Planner Daniel Pass this week voiced concern over the pending implementation of a new State law requiring a "housing element" in the general plan of every California city.

The new state requirement, scheduled to take effect July 1, 1969, will specify that planners "involve the public" in formulating the housing element, a procedure which is likely to prove very expensive in Pass's view.

Elmer Rose, a Jefferson High School teacher who doubles as a financial consultant to the Jefferson High School District Teachers' Association, monitored one of several individual discussion groups at Monday's dinner-planning conference, held at Oceana High in Pacifica by JUHSOTA.

The organization attempted to identify major problems in Jefferson District instruction, finance, professional status, community action and legislative programs using "brainstorming" techniques. A JUHSOTA spokesman said 150 items, potentially negotiable with trustees, resulted from the session.

16-Year-Old Interference By 'Ham' Is Claimed

Residents of the Highlands section of Daly City are up in arms today over a 16-year-old ham radio operator who they claim is interfering with reception on everything from television sets to telephone conversations.

One man said his job is in jeopardy because of the radio. The Daly City council received a strongly worded petition signed by 14 neighbors of Vernon Buerg, who uses his home at 456 Lakeshore Drive as the ham station (call letters WB6KBK).

One irate resident, Robert F. Craig, complained his work demands he engage in numerous long distance calls — many overseas — and the radio station interrupts these calls.

The matter has already been taken up with the Federal Communications Commission, but FCC officials said they were helpless to intervene as long as young Buerg does not break any broadcasting rules.

Acquire a Park Site Now, Daly City Asks

'Young Adult' Apartments Okeh Sought

Developers of the Club View Apartments in South San Francisco have applied for a new permit to allow development of the project as a "Woodlake type" specialized "young adult residential complex."

Spokesmen for R. and B. Development Co. have submitted plans for a 455-unit complex on their 10-acre site on El Camino Real, and are seeking an amendment to the Club View Apartments use permit to allow redesigning of the project.

The development now proposed would be designed to accommodate single occupants between 21 and 35, and would include provisions for recreational and social activities, as well as residential accommodations.

While the existing Club View apartment tower at the site would be retained and incorporated into the new plans, the remainder of the approved project would be scrapped to make way for the construction of "several interconnected multiple-family dwellings, courtyards, plazas and recreational facilities."

City Planner Daniel Pass has recommended approval of the plan amendment, stating the newly proposed use would "fill a need, and serve an important segment of the Bay Area's population."

Pass said the development would be "something on the order of Woodlake in San Mateo."

The existing Club View plans call for development of approximately eight acres of the site (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Pacifica Man Wins Contest

A Pacifica resident is the final week's winner in The Times-Post Football Contest.

Michael Zuback, 204 Marina Way, picked all 15 games correctly, including the tie game between the San Francisco Forty-niners and the Los Angeles Rams, to claim the $50 cash prize.

Since Zuback is not a Times subscriber, he did not receive the $50 bonus prize. No other contestants correctly picked all 15 games, although a number of contestants did correctly pick 14 games.

Immediate acquisition of Pacifica for a park site, Lysett charged.

In their resolution, the council pointed out that the North County is the fastest growing area in San Mateo County and that San Bruno Mountain was the largest undeveloped area left in the North County.

A park site on the mountain would serve three cities—Brisbane, South San Francisco and Daly City.

But proponents of the Pacifica park site claimed weather on the mountain was bad, with fog and wind whipping across the mountain almost constantly.

The Maestri property purchase parked a shot, but bitter debate between Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust and Lysett last month.

Purpose of the resolution is to "strengthen a request for a San Bruno Mountain Park site," Lysett explained.

Recovering Clerk Shot Three Times By Robber

Marvin Salisbury appeared to be winning his desperate battle for life in the intensive care unit of Mary's Help Hospital today.

Salisbury is the 64-year-old liquor store clerk who was ruthlessly shot down by a young gunman Thursday night as he tried to defend himself with a whiskey bottle.

The victim was hit in the abdomen, right ankle and left arm. He clung to life today in the intensive care ward at Mary's Help Hospital following almost four hours of surgery by a team of four doctors.

Salisbury, an 11-year veteran of the Mayfair Market food chain, was on duty late when two gunmen strode into the store at 2350 Junipero Serra Boulevard.

One of the men walked up behind night manager Louis Zurcher, 58, as he was collecting receipts from checkout stands and shoved a gun into his ribs, demanding he hand over the money and ordering the manager into a back office.

The younger of the two bandits headed for the liquor section of the store and confronted Salisbury.

As the clerk walked towards a cash register to get the money he whirled and threw a bottle at the stranger, who fired twice. One bullet hit Salisbury in the abdomen and he crumpled to the floor and began crawling behind the counter, police said.

'Small World' S.S.F. Credit Card Caper Is Solved

A gang of suspected credit card and check thieves gained new insight into Marshall McLuhan's concept of the Global Village this week.

Through a "one-in-a-million coincidence," two credit cards stolen from the same San Francisco woman was presented at the same South San Francisco motel by two different parties.

Police said a woman later identified as Lois Ann Gibson, 32, checked into the Cavalier Motel on El Camino Real last Friday with a credit card in the name of Mrs. G. M. White.

While the woman and a male companion were still occupying a room Sunday, another party of six persons arrived to check into the motel on another credit card in the name of Mrs. G. M. White.

The manager telephoned police, but the second party had departed when officers arrived. In Mrs. Gibson's possession, they found 20 other credit cards made out to various persons, 35 endorsed personal checks, several Series E savings bonds, registration slips for 10 automobiles, and a quantity of narcotics and paraphernalia.

Mrs. White's credit cards were taken from her automobile in a San Francisco burglary several days ago, according to Detective Bill Peterson.

Peterson said the six persons who attempted to check into the Cavalier Motel on Sunday were later arrested by police at Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Gibson has been charged with seven felonies, including possession of stolen checks, possession of stolen credit cards and possession of narcotics.

Bayshore Citizens Ask Protection

Homeowners in the Bayshore section of Daly City pleaded last week with the city council for increased police protection in the wake of numerous threats and attacks on women from youth gangs passing through their neighborhood.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lyett promised quick action to check what he called "disturbing incidents" involving youth roving through the north border community.

The Bayshore section of Daly City fronts the famed Cow Palace and has long been a trouble spot for police patrols. At least one full time unit patrols the neighborhood after dark.

During Cow Palace events additional police units are assigned to the area.

Several residents of the neighborhood appeared before the council last night and told of bottle-throwing, fist-fighting, profanity-yelling youth groups which pass through the neighborhood en route to a Geneva Avenue pool hall "just about every night."

One spokesman, Kenneth C. Josefson, further charged that small boys "about 12 years old" frequent the pool hall long after the 10 p.m. curfew.

"We're getting fed up with having our women attacked, our homes burglarized and our cars sprayed with paint," Josefson said.

Another resident said his wife was afraid to go to the store after dark and told of one housewife who visited a nearby laundromat and a youth knocked her down and tried to run off with her purse.

"There's just too much going on in our neighborhood," Josefson said.

Police are stymied in their patrol efforts in the neighborhood because only a few homes are in Daly City and the remainder across the border in San Francisco.

Josefson suggested a unit contain one Daly City officer and one San Francisco policeman.

But Mayor Lyett said he had never heard of such an arrangement. (There is a pursuit agreement between the two cities.)

S.S.F. Still Won't Act On Westborough Extension

Disagree On Cost Sharing

South San Francisco councilmen again postponed action on their agreement with the county for construction of the proposed Westborough Boulevard extension Monday, following a similar move by the board of supervisors.

The board declined to act upon the project two weeks ago after County Engineer Don Wilson suggested that Supervisor James Fitzgerald should be present to participate in the decision.

Fitzgerald, who has served as mediator between the board and the city in negotiations to complete the agreement, was away on vacation when the matter came before the board.

He has since returned, and the board was expected to consider the proposal today.

Councilmen found Wilson's proposal for cost sharing on the project "unsatisfactory" when it was presented last month.

The engineer recommended that the city be responsible for purchasing access rights-of-way and "tie-in" sites for a proposed pedestrian overpass at the Calan Boulevard intersection from the California Golf Club.

The project was delayed several months ago when the council balked at a requirement that the city be required to purchase the additional property and pay a "severance" fee to the golf club owners.

City Atty. John Noonan, Wilson and Fitzgerald were designed to work on a compromise arrangement for construction of the road.

County officials earlier threatened to drop the project entirely if agreement was not reached prior to this month.

Fry Cook Is Held in Cafe Cash Theft

A 22-year-old San Bruno fry cook was arrested Monday, charged by San Bruno police with grand theft, after $280 vanished from his employer's cash register Sunday.

Frank C. Sikorski of 441 East San Bruno Avenue, Apartment 6, was to appear in North County Municipal District Court today on the charge.

Sikorski, according to San Bruno police, closed up Marsh's Steak Pit, 711 San Mateo Avenue, at 6 p.m. Sunday.

However, later that night, Sikorski called his employer, Marshal Allen, to tell Allen what he had done, police said they were told.

But Allen did not believe Sikorski, believing him to be possibly intoxicated, and told him to go to bed "and sleep it off," police said he reported.

Monday, though, Allen found the money indeed was missing and Sikorski was jailed.

A Communications Gap Over Station

cropped up regarding the station since it was first voted on by the counties involved.

(San Mateo and Marin counties dropped out of BARTD prior to the election.)

Even at the preliminary talks, BARTD directors made it clear the district was short of funds and any station design that was not consistent with BARTD's engineering plans would have to be financed by Daly City — much the same as Berkeley had to pay for undergrounding the line in that East Bay city.

But mayor Bernard (Bud) Lyett, of Daly City, maintained San Mateo County had not asked for BARTD and the system was being "forced" upon the city.

Lyett and the council's adamant stand on the subway station was coupled to the city's long range General Plan, recently completed at a cost of some $105,000.

In the plan, any future continuance of a rapid transit system down the Peninsula from Daly City must be compatible with BARTD. And if BARTD is elevated, the track must be elevated, at least for a considerable distance as it passes through town.

"Daly City and San Francisco residents south of Balboa Park (where BARTD now proposes stopping the line) should not be misled that Daly City is the stumbling block to any solution."

"The fact is a nutshell is that BARTD has not fulfilled its own directive even to the extent of communicating with Daly City in any way since June 20, 1968," Frank said.

Under the new plans, the entire site would be devoted to the residential development.

The company has constructed about 20 "young singles" complexes throughout the state, and the facilities have filled a "definite need," according to Pass.

City Manager, Fire Chief Don't Agree

pend on them," Ritzmann claims.

The allegation was borne out during a two-alarm blaze at a Mission Street motorcycle shop last week when only three reserves answered a call.

Nine reserves were called. Frank said the reason more did not answer the alarm was because they are "upset" by the fact that they are not called more often.

The use of reserves in fire departments is not unique to Daly City.

Many cities have a "reserve program."

Normally reserves are called out to back up firemen either "in-station" waiting for other alarms during a large fire, or an all-out conflagration where everyone is needed. In Daly City, reserves are required to answer an initial alarm to supplement full-time firemen.

Frank maintains Daly City does not have the hazards of larger surrounding cities and doesn't need the additional manpower asked for by Chief Ritzmann.

The city manager fears such additional personnel would add an estimated 30 cents to the present tax rate.

respect to fire personnel during the past five years have been equitable and significantly in excess of increases in the cost of living."

Most of a fireman's day is spent either eating or sleeping (35.9 per cent); with standby following a close second (31.5 per cent), Frank's report revealed. Response to alarms requires only 1.3 per cent of the total 24 hour shift for firemen.

Herndon hit Frank's statistics and said they were the same figures used in an argument several years ago. At that time they were reprinted from a magazine article dealing with the San Diego firemen, Herndon charged.

A League of California Cities Survey Report from 1965 was the basis, Frank said.

Although the firemen had complained they were being used for other than fire suppression jobs around the station (thus saving the city thousands of dollars), Frank argued most fire departments in the state likewise assign their firemen to similar duties, including alarm maintenance and custodial jobs around stations.

On the subject of manpower, something Herndon hit at rather hard in his petition, Frank replied the cost of hiring another 30 men would add 30 cents on the tax rate, or about $21 annually to the average Daly City homeowner.

Total cost of the new men would exceed $377,000 in direct salary costs and fringe benefits, according to Frank.

Frank offered the money factor as argument for increasing the manpower in what Herndon had earlier charged was a "critically short" manning schedule in the department.

Standards used by Herndon in his petition regarding manpower were ICSA and NFPA manuals.

"The standards recommended ... might be considered by some to be ideal, but cannot be considered to be reasonable or practicable. The AIA recommendations do not take into consideration the numerous factors involved in the establishment of manpower needs for an individual community," Frank's reply revealed.

Herndon had based some of his requests for additional men on the population factor (1 fireman per 1,000 pop.) but Frank considered such basis "the least important elements of consideration."

What must be considered in determining manpower is hazards involved, type of buildings, geographical locations and similar factors, he said.

Herndon was expected to study Frank's report and appear before the council during their next meeting.

Salisbury succeeded in driving off the gunman who fled without getting any money from his victim's cash register, police said.

After running from the store, the suspects split up — one ran into the Lake Merced Country Club grounds and the other ran south apparently towards a parked car.

Salisbury's assailant was described as in his twenties, short, sporting a dark moustache and wearing dark glasses and a neckerchief. His accomplice is of medium build, about 45 years old and "rather tall."

Two Jefferson High Trustees Rap the AFT for Strike

By WILL THOMAS

Elio Fontana, veteran member of the Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees, last Tuesday termed the recent strike by the 100-member American Federation of Teachers, Local 1481, a callous move by a capricious few militant teachers exercising arrogance at its best.

Fontana's remarks were a stinging rebuke of the AFT, whose strike, he said, "did not contribute one iota toward teacher respectability," and "in fact, will do more to destroy it than any one thing I can remember in all my years on the board."

Fontana and Trustee Ray Milton — a teacher in the San Francisco school system — voiced express positions in the aftermath of the AFT walkout that disrupted classes in the district's six high schools in Pacifica and Daly City.

Speaking as an individual board member, Milton declared the "board recognizes, in a manner beyond the ability of those of narrow vision, the scope of the great social ferment permeating our times."

He advanced that the "danger, as in all fermentation, is that the wine of life will sour and our children will be left only with the dregs, while we prattle about what room Miss Smith should have."

Milton pointed out: "We are cognizant of teacher needs. But we ask our friends in the union if these needs are best met by exploiting their young charges, by forcing them into pro and anti-factions and calling this, 'a lesson in democratic action'."

Milton asked: "If you redouble your efforts for working conditions and forget your primary aim of the welfare of your young and impressionable charges, should it surprise you if you are regarded not as negotiators, but as fanatics?"

The Jefferson High "board and the public it represents," Milton asserted, "will never fear to negotiate, but it will never negotiate through fear. And above all, it will never seek to rationalize a violation of the law to bolster the egos of the few."

He said the board does not believe there are simple solutions to complex social problems — "nor does it grant to its disputants in the union the gift of psychic vision and sole possessor of the keys to the kingdom of understanding."

Speaking toward an AFT demand for participation, Milton acknowledged the desire to be "commendable," but explained that the board "is invested with the responsibility to see to it that these activities are carried on within the framework of acquiescence to the existing law."

He declared it is not the board's duty to discuss or decide the merits of the Winton Act, which prescribes the channels of teacher-administration negotiation, and which AFT refuses to join.

"It is the board's duty to carry out the intention of the law as long as it remains on the books," Milton said, "and it is not the board's duty as an elected body to set a regrettable example by efforts to circumvent the law in order to pander to the prejudices of an over-strident minority."

He suggested, instead, that it is the board's "duty to utilize the instrumentality of the law, in this case the negotiating council, to implement its educational program through improved teacher relationships."

Milton, in the way of assurance to the public, he said, asserted "that the public interest will prevail and that the public will remain prime over any special interest group, be it socially, professionally or politically orientated."

Fontana charged that "dialogue" surrounding the strike by AFT has "confused the original issue: the negotiating council rule."

Asserting the "strike" has tumbled our high schools from the status of "great school," Fontana declared it "did not institute teacher improvements."

"Don't be misguided," said Fontana, "by the cliché statements" of school improvement, educational improvements, or increased salaries.

"This wasn't the case here, or the issue," he offered, "although these important issues are always the concern of 'responsible teachers' and certainly of the board of education."

Fontana pointed out to colleagues and about 35 persons in the audience — mostly school affiliated persons or those with business to take up with trustees — that the district's salary schedule is the "highest within a group of 100, including all of San Mateo County, all of San Francisco and our surrounding area."

He said district taxes are "among the highest."

"What then (were) they striking for?" he asked. "The union claims they want direct communication with the superintendent," Fontana pointed out, "however, a state law indicates how this is to be done."

He suggested "any group" in disagreement with the law should challenge it, legally.

"No person, or group, has a right to ignore the laws which dictate employer-employee relations, or dictate a line of authority," Fontana asserted.

"However," he went on, "this original issue, being clouded, has made it possible for a small group of teachers to disrupt the educational process of all our students."

He claimed the strike "made it difficult for teachers to teach; to be responsible in an atmosphere of belligerency."

Fontana, like Milton, said illegal action "cannot be condoned, and I do not condone it."

Expanding on this thinking, Fontana advanced that "it is naive to believe the teachers' union was not aware of (its) unlawful act. These laws are not to be ignored capriciously to satisfy the whims of a few teachers."

Fontana also made known his opinion that punitive measures should be taken against those teachers who "violated the law."

Dr. Marcus Pleads For Harmony

Dr. Sanford A. Marcus, a Daly City citizen who has represented the Westlake Citizens' Steering Committee in watching over activities of the Jefferson High School District, has urged an approach toward harmony in the wake of the recent student American Federation of Teacher walkouts.

Marcus emphasized he was speaking as an individual, rather than for the Steering Committee, of which he is generally considered the spokesman.

"It is my hope that all the parties to this controversy should evaluate their separate roles," Marcus declared, "... and conduct ourselves in such a manner as will give testimony to the belief that the harmonious operation of our schools is a necessary prelude to the harmonious operation of our entire society."

Marcus said he saw five primary issues involving six "protagonists," noting that "The discussion by only three or four of these was in fact an exercise in futility."

He said the six parties are the high school board and administration, the AFT, the students, the parents and the non-parent taxpayers of the district.

The issues, he thinks, are: 1—A power struggle between the two teacher groups for the right to act as spokesman for the district teachers.

2—The State of California, through the Winton Act, has directed that school boards shall negotiate with the teachers through a negotiating council, and that all negotiations shall be conducted through this council. This latter point is under challenge in the courts, but the district attorney of San Mateo has directed that this board accept the above interpretation.

3—The numerically superior Classroom Teachers Association dominates the negotiating council at present, and the AFT has refused to participate in its deliberations, thereby closing the only channel through which the board can legally meet with the AFT.

4—The issues of wages, hours, and working conditions have already been agreed to by the board and negotiating council.

Marcus, who led the Steering Committee battle against trustees in the fight over Serrano High School construction and realignment of Jefferson district boundaries, said that had trustees maintained a "strict adherence to the legal interpretation of the Winton Act, the AFT would have been compelled to seek redress through the courts rather than by a strike."

(Superintendent Edward Morgan explained that the board had operated under the present rules all of last year and has again since October 14, upon receipt of the first written opinion of the district attorney's office on the Winton Act.

(For a brief period, the trustees had allowed, through rule change, the AFT and other certificated units to negotiate directly with the superintendent, rather than through the district negotiating council, as is once

Invalid Watches As Coast Firemen Extinguish Blaze

An invalid Pacifica woman watched from her bed Sunday as firemen fought a blaze which gutted an adjoining room in her home.

Firemen said Mrs. Mildred DuVal, 511 Vista Mar, "never left her bed" while the fire in her son's bedroom was being extinguished.

Mrs. DuVal has been confined to her bed because of ill health, according to department spokesmen.

The fire started about 7 a.m. Sunday when the light bulb from a microscope fell between the bed and a wall, igniting the bed clothes.

Mrs. DuVal's son, Kenneth, 14, had placed the dismantled microscope near the bed, according to firemen.

The fire was confined to the bed and the wall, but smoke damage throughout the house was "extensive," firemen said.

Two other Pacifica residences were damaged by fire on Saturday, department spokesmen said.

A fire which started in the closet of a bedroom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Derham, 864 Arguello, about 6:30 a.m. caused $2,000 damage.

Firemen said the family was at home when the blaze began.

D.C. Man Injured In Smash-up

A Daly City man was injured early Sunday morning in an accident on South Linden Avenue in South San Francisco, police reported.

Dennis L. Harrington, 23, is reported in "serious condition" at Peninsula Hospital, where he was taken after the accident occurred at 2:25 a.m. Sunday.

Police said a panel truck driven by Harrington crashed into the rear of a flat-bed truck parked in front of 133 South Linden.

In another wreck early Sunday morning, two Millbrae youths escaped serious injury when their car toppled over a 35-foot bluff on Forbes Tower Road.

Police said a car driven by 18-year-old Dennis L. Donovan, 321 Magnolia Street, ran off the road and down the embankment about 1:45 a.m. The car came to rest upside down, according to police.

Donovan and his companion, Laurie Ellen Ward, also of Millbrae, were treated for minor cuts and bruises at Peninsula Hospital and later released.

Pacifica City Councilmen Approve Coastside Corral Parcel Rezoning

Pacifica councilmen approved the rezoning of the Coastside Corral property for residential development by a 3-2 vote Tuesday night, after a heated two-hour debate which bordered upon "name calling."

Councilwoman Grace McCarthy and Councilman Rick Wallis vehemently opposed the rezoning requested by Challenge Development on grounds the 92.7-acre development will remove a valuable commercial recreation area and also overload the city's sewer treatment facilities.

Wallis, Mrs. McCarthy and 223 petitioners from the Park Pacifica neighborhood urged that action on the zoning request be postponed until a pending 701 Study now in progress is completed about one year from now.

"I don't see how we can approve this residential development and still have a meaningful 701 Study," Wallis said.

"Outside Pattern"

"I think this zoning request is outside the pattern of the needs of the community, and the 701 Study should come first," he said.

Wallis also pointed out that the city's sewer treatment plant is now working "above capacity," and "there is no guarantee the voters will approve bonds necessary for the needed expansion."

He also stated that further residential development in the area will "do nothing toward relieving the high tax burden we now have," and noted that the city's school system is not financially able to take on further expansion.

"Voters Refused"

"Voters refused to approve a bond issue desperately needed to maintain the present school program earlier this month, and there is no guarantee the bonds will be passed in the future," he said.

"Our present high tax rate is keeping industrial and commercial developers away from the city," he said.

Mayor Nick Gust, who favored approval of the rezoning, launched an attack upon Wallis for his "painting of a black picture of the city" when he concluded.

"Your remarks certainly won't entice any developers into the city," Gust said.

Mrs. McCarthy, long a proponent of "commercial recreation" development in the city, said the council was taking away an "irreplaceable recreation area, and making an existing business smaller" in approving the rezoning.

The zoning request, approved several weeks ago, allows residential development of the present Coastside Corral area, and sets aside an adjacent 18-acre site for a development to replace the present riding tables.

Plan 200 Homes

About 200 homes will be built on the 92-acre site, according to Challenge representative Charles Trifeletti.

Trifeletti has maintained that the riding facilities to be constructed on the smaller site will actually be superior to the present facilities, and willing to include an indoor "exercise ring" not contained in the present Coastside Corral buildings.

Many Park Pacifica residents had urged that action on the zoning request be delayed until after the city's new park dedication ordinance goes into effect next month.

However, Trifeletti pointed out that his firm has already allocated more land area for use as parks in the subdivision than the new ordinance will require.

17 Acres for Park
He also noted that a tentative map of the new subdivision must be submitted and approved before actual development can take place, and "the city still has ample control."

"We need the zoning change now in order to proceed with planning," Trifeletti said. Mrs. McCarthy suggested that the developer complete the 18-acre "replacement" for Coastside Corral, "and then apply for rezoning of the 92 acres. Voting in favor of the rezoning were Mayor Gust, Councilman Harland Minshew and Councilman Daniel Modena.

Southern Hills Rat Eradication Successful, It Won't Cost Homeowners Extra Money

A rat eradication program in the County Board of Supervisors said.

Both Howell and the board, however, renewed their demands that the subdivision be annexed to Daly City and the North County Sanitation District so that the owners will be no longer able to get a "free ride" in such matters as the rat-killing project.

Howell warned last year that unless an eradication program were undertaken the residents could expect the rats to start invading their bathrooms through the plumbing connections. It was decided at that time that Howell would see that the project was done and that the cost would be pro-rated among the homeowners.

The health official reported to the supervisors last Tuesday that the Paramount Pest Control Service had achieved a "very effective" eradication program through the use of poisoned bait for the cost of $45.05.

That figured out to $1.61 a home. Howell pointed out that it would probably cost more to collect the money than would be collected. The board accepted his recommendation that the county pick up the tab.

The board agreed with Howell that Southern Hills should be annexed to the city and district and referred the matter to the Local Agency Formation Commission for study and possible action.

The tract includes Cardova Street, Canyon Drive and Baltimore Way and is surrounded on three sides by Daly City and on the fourth side by South San Francisco.

U.S. Savings Bonds Stolen

Burglars Thursday took $8,250 U.S. Savings Bonds, $310 in cash and a man's watch from the San Bruno home of Mr. and Mrs. Leros Mantero.

San Bruno police said the burglars apparently forced open a rear bedroom window to the Mantero home at 309 Acacia Avenue, sometime between 3 p.m. and midnight.

The items were taken from the master bedroom, police said.

Family Quarrel Tragedy

A Pacifica police officer shot and wounded a man who was threatening his common law wife with a realistic cigarette lighter "pistol" early on Thursday.

John D. Thompson, 47, of 543 Hickey Boulevard was shot in the left shoulder as he held the "toy" pistol to the head of Mary G. Elmore, 38, on the second-story balcony of his home.

Thompson was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Francis Hospital in San Francisco where he was taken after emergency treatment at Mary's Help Hospital.

Police said Thompson was shot once by Sgt. Ray Karczewski about 3:30 a.m. Karczewski and two other officers were dispatched to the residence after a neighbor complained of a domestic quarrel.

When officers arrived at the residence, according to police reports, Thompson was holding Mrs. Elmore about the neck with one hand, and held the cigarette lighter in the other.

Mrs. Elmore reportedly shouted "he has a gun" as the police officers approached the house.

Karczewski ordered Thompson to drop the gun "10 or 12 times," according to police reports, then fired the single shot when Thompson shifted his position and exposed his upper torso.

Thompson then dropped the "gun," and the three officers broke open the front door of the house and arrested him.

After the shooting, Mrs. Elmore, a teacher in the South San Francisco Unified School District, told police she "truly believed" Thompson had a real pistol, and that he was going to shoot her with it.

The incident is still under investigation, according to Chief Neil Tremaine.

Raise for Elementary Staff

A $36-a-month across the board salary increase for non-teaching personnel in the Jefferson High School District was approved by trustees last week.

All classified employees working less than a full day will receive an "equal proportion." Bus drivers received a 20-cent per hour raise — from $3.45 to $3.65 an hour.

An item in the package calls for district administrators to conduct a survey of present classifications and salaries, and a complete mid-year review (January 31) to determine the status of budget expenditures, and, if necessary, make adjustments in classified salaries.

In separate action, trustees voted district Superintendent Edward Morgan a "five or six per cent" salary increase, setting his pay at $28,100 annually.

D.C. Student Escapes Fire In Road Crash

A discarded mattress lying in the middle of Bayshore Freeway Wednesday afternoon caused a truck fire that brought California Highway Patrolmen, Burlingame Police, and Burlingame Firemen to the scene.

Half a dozen telephoned alarms were made to the Burlingame fire station, telling of the 2:34 p.m. blaze on Bayshore opposite Trenton Avenue.

Hepburn E. Klemm, a College of San Mateo student who resides at 12 Palisades Drive, Daly City, was driving southbound when suddenly the car in front of his swerved into another lane, he said.

In front of Klemm's 1968 pickup was a mattress lying in the roadway.

Klemm said he did not have time to change lanes, and ran into the mattress. Almost immediately he became aware that the mattress had jammed into the truck's undercarriage, and before he could pull out of the freeway traffic, it had burst into flame.

Firemen say the blaze blistered paint and undercoating of the truck bed, scorched a spare tire, ruined wiring, and ruined brake lines. Klemm was not hurt.

Pay Boost Checks Due In December

The new five per cent across-the-board salary increase authorized for some 412 Jefferson High School District teachers will be reflected on their mid-December checks, according to Glenn South, assistant superintendent of the district for business.

The new salary schedule specifies a beginning pay scale of $6870, topped by a "Class VI, Range 12" figure of $13,375.

Additionally, South stated, 33 teachers are receiving service increments ranging from $12,960 to $16,210, with a tenure bonus of $100 remaining in force for those with tenure status.

Though the new schedule was approved by district trustees two weeks ago, November warrants to teachers will reflect last year's lower salaries, South said.

District payroll offices and county office personnel did not have time to recalculate the increases granted by the board of trustees for inclusion this month, he explained.

"The additional funds necessary to make possible the new salary schedule will come from unexpected (federal) appropriations . . . and not reflected in our present budget, and from our undistributed reserve account, which has been reduced to $11,282," South pointed out.

7 Community Rapid Transit Meetings Set

Seven community conferences have been scheduled by the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority to spread the word about a proposed master transit plan for San Mateo County to as many residents as possible.

The conferences, to be held in high school auditoriums, are to be a key part of an intensive education program being undertaken by the West Bay agency prior to an election next spring in which the voters will decide whether to accept or reject the plan.

What the plan will be is not known yet. Consulting planners and engineers, who have been working on the project for three years, are scheduled to brief West Bay directors on their recommendations December 2.

In addition to the community conferences at the high school locations, West Bay directors plan to meet with each of the 18 city councils in the county to line the plan. Staff members will also make presentations at meetings of service organizations.

Suggestions received as a result of the meetings are to be taken into consideration before the final master plan proposal is adopted.

Dates and high school locations of the community conferences: December 3, Half Moon Bay; January 6, San Mateo; January 7, Menlo-Atherton; January 8, South San Francisco; January 13, Carlsbad; January 14, Ravenswood; January 15, Oceanside.

New Daly City-Colma Chamber President Elio Fontana Outlines Program: Boys' Club Priority

Elio A. Fontana, new president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, outlined a 10-point program of proposed chamber activities for the coming year at a C of C luncheon Thursday.

First on the list of priorities proposed by the new president was the formation of a Boys' Club in the area.

"Although it will be an expensive venture, I feel that a Boys' Club can be a great humanitarian undertaking," Fontana said.

Stating he felt the project is "long overdue," Fontana proposed that a "top working committee" be appointed to work toward establishing the Boys' Club.

Fontana also recommended that the chamber assume a larger role in "helping to solve our area's social problems."

"There is a need for positive participation by businessmen in these areas," he said. "If we are to maintain or return to a healthy social environment, we must act aggressively."

Another of the president's proposed projects was the formation of a school committee.

"Schools have a direct relationship to our expenses, taxes and our city make-up. Decisions pursuant to inter-school boundaries, unification, increased taxes and costs should be studied by a responsible group, and we include within our membership the responsible businessmen."

Other projects included in the "10-point program" were a budgetary review, a special "guesting committee," apolitical statement on press relations, and the "maintenance" of a number of existing committees and projects.

Fontana also proposed that a committee be formed to consider obtaining new office facilities for the chamber.

The luncheon meeting Thursday was held at Toto's Restaurant.

Approval has been given by the San Bruno City Council to a joint city-state project to widen El Camino Real, from San Bruno Avenue to the northern limits of the community.

The project, according to municipal leaders, will be done in partnership with the State Division of Highways and will cost property owners in the area of the project an estimated $82,000.

City Clerk Carl Hultberg said the next step leading toward start of the project is negotiation with the state regarding financing of their portion of the financing, so that the bids can be let in a single project that would be "more economical for everybody."

The municipality would be responsible for installation of sidewalks, curbs and undergrounding phases of the projects, Hultberg said.

No protests from property owners were received at a public hearing on the project this week.

Representatives of American Savings and Loan and the Hap-smith company, major property holders in the area who would bear a heavy brunt of the cost through assessments, lent their approval to the project.

Work is not expected to start before next spring.

In the meantime, the City of South San Francisco also is planning widening of El Camino to six lanes for a distance of about one mile, from the city's south limits — tying in with the San Bruno portion — to Second Street.

Estimated cost of that project is $685,000, with $245,000 to be borne by the city, sources there indicated.

J.B., a prosperous businessman, finds his fidelity to God challenged December 4, 5, and 6 in Westmoor's Little Theater when the Westmoor students present Archibald MacLeish's "J.B.," a contemporary version of the Biblical story of Job.

Presentation of this play requires a transformation of the Little Theater's stage into a circus tent setting.

Among the duties of the building and painting committee, headed by Jim Viglizzo, will be the construction of a platform from which Mr. Zeus and Nickles, representing God and Satan, respectively, will oversee the tragic events they induce.

Nickles, portrayed by Ron Wells, claims the piety of J.B., enacted by senior Steve Grable, would prove non-existent if his materialistic gains and family were taken from him. Keith Thomas plays Zeus, who is confident the god-fearing J.B. will never curse him.

Caught unknowingly in a struggle for power, J.B. finds his business ruined, his five children killed, his wife Sarah, portrayed by Pat Donohue, turned against him, and a final destruction by nuclear war of all his materialistic goods.

Marilyn Alarcon will be in charge of costuming the cast of 20 students. Lighting will be supervised by Bob Henry and Carol Tryon. Prop and prop settings are being arranged for by Bob Boyd. The music composed for "Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday," sung during a Thanksgiving dinner scene, was written by Ron Wells. John Walsh is serving as assistant director to Kenneth Brown, Westmoor drama instructor.

MRS. JAMES WELCH (Charlene Lamoure)

James Welch and Charlene Lamoure in Vow Exchange

San Francisco was the setting for the recent marriage of Charlene Lucie Lamoure and James Raymond Welch who honeymooned in southern California and Arizona.

Charlene, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Lamoure of San Francisco, recited her vows in an Empire gown of Chantilly lace with a bateau neckline, long sleeves, wateau train and pearl detail. A petal headpiece trimmed with seed pearls and crystals secured her chapel veil, and she carried white roses and stephanotis in a cascade.

Michele Lamoure, her sister's maid of honor, set the style for the other attendants in an American Beauty Shantung gown. The bridesmaids included Jacquelyn Welch, sister of the benedict, Mary Uhren, cousin of the benedict, Donna Gibbons, Kathleen Thibadeau and Colette Lamoure, junior attendant for her sister. Joy Jones was the flower girl.

Kevin Welch was his brother's best man. Both are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Welch of Daly City. Maurice Lamoure, brother of the bride, shared ushering duties with Gary Parraga, Roger Thompson, Richard Neves and James Klement.

The couple met their guests at Fern Court in the Merchandise Mart. They will make their home in San Bruno.

The new Mrs. Welch was graduated from St. Paul's High School in San Francisco and attended San Francisco State College and Munson's Business College. Her husband was graduated from Rioran High School and City College of San Francisco.

Pam was graduated from Mills High School and the College of San Mateo. Lee was graduated from Crestmoor High School and is now attending the College of San Mateo.

Write Down the Menu

Good morning, good cooks.

It's just about a week until Thanksgiving and not one bit too soon to start thinking about what we'll serve, how we will prepare it and making that shopping list.

Be sure to set aside time to polish your silver, re-iron your tablecloth (why is it that no matter how carefully you iron and place the cloth in a drawer, it comes out looking as though it had been ironed at the riverside with hot rocks?) and to arrange the centerpiece.

HOW MANY TIMES have you served a dinner and when the diners are satiated, remembered some delicacy you'd prepared and forgotten in the refrigerator? One time, two times, too darn many times? Me too! The way to avoid this is to write the menu and hang it in the kitchen where you can check it as you go. Another good idea is to make a list of the things you have to do on this busy day, allowing time for each step in your meal preparation. This way you won't end up trying to mash potatoes, stir gravy and unmold salad at the same time.

Let's start off with some ideas for the first course of your meal.

CLAM AND TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL

- 2 cups clam juice
- 2 cups tomato juice
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- Dash of Tabasco sauce
- Celery salt

Combine the two cups each clam and tomato juice with the two tablespoons lemon juice and dash of Tabasco sauce. Chill. When ready to serve, shake well, pour into glasses and shake just a shadow of celery salt on top. As an added attraction float avocado ball in each glass.

ANOTHER DELICIOUS IDEA is this tomato aspic. Since it's made ahead it's all out of your way until time to serve.

TOMATO ASPIC

- 2 pkgs. unflavored gelatin
- ¾ cup water
- 1 can tomato juice (No. 1 size)
- 1 can tomato sauce
- 1 bay leaf
- Pinch salt
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 teas. lemon juice
- 2 tsp. grated onion
- 1 ripe avocado, diced
- 12 stuffed olives, sliced

In a saucepan combine the one can tomato juice, one can tomato sauce, one bay leaf, salt, one tablespoon sugar, one teaspoon lemon juice and two tablespoons grated onion. Heat to boiling point. Remove bay leaf. During this time place the two packages gelatin in the three-fourths cup water and allow to stand for 5 minutes.

When the tomato mixture reaches the boiling stage blend in the gelatin mixture and pour into an oblong pan. When mixture begins to set, fold in the diced avocado and the sliced stuffed olives. Chill.

When ready to serve cut into any shapes that please your fancy and serve on lettuce with a dollop of mayonnaise on top, crowned with a slice of stuffed olive. Serve with crisp cheese crackers.

THE FOLLOWING CHART gives an approximate time for roasting the turkey.

TURKEY TIME

Ready-to-cook weight	350-degree oven	Total Roasting Time
4 to 6 lbs.		2 to 2½ hours
6 to 8 lbs.		2½ to 3 hours
8 to 12 lbs.		3 to 3½ hours
12 to 16 lbs.		3½ to 4 hours
For larger birds set to oven at 300-degrees
16 to 20 lbs.		4 to 4½ hours
20 to 24 lbs.		4½ to 5 hours

IN CASE YOU DON'T WANT to go to the trouble of stuffing the turkey and still love dressing this next recipe for carrot dressing will fill the bill.

CARROT DRESSING

- 10 large carrots
- 3 tbsp. butter, melted
- 3 cups cubed or grated bread
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 cup rich milk
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- 2 egg whites, beaten

Peel, cut and cook the ten carrots in boiling, salted water. Mash and add the three tablespoons melted butter, three cups bread, one chopped onion, one cup milk, salt and pepper, one teaspoon poultry seasoning and the two beaten egg yolks. Blend well. Lastly fold in the beaten egg whites and pour into a large buttered casserole. Set in a pan of water and bake one hour in 350-degree oven, or until firm.

A GLAMOROUS WAY to serve sweet potatoes is in orange halves. They look so pretty and taste heavenly.

SWEET POTATO ORANGES

- 3 large oranges
- 2 cups mashed sweet potatoes
- 2 tsp. melted butter
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup orange juice
- Small marshmallows

Cut the three large oranges in half. Carefully squeeze out juice and cut out the pulp, being careful not to tear the shells. Combine the two cups mashed sweet potatoes with the two tablespoons melted butter, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half cup orange juice. Fill the orange halves with the sweet potato mixture. Place a few marshmallows on top. When ready for dinner place orange halves in muffin tins and bake in 400-degree oven about 15 minutes or until hot.

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

A Champagne Preview

BOUTIQUE NOEL will open tomorrow evening with a gala Champagne Preview in the Mary's Help Hospital Solarium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

According to Mrs. Evelyn Fitzgerald, a magnificent display of holiday items will be available to those planning on adding some new touches to their Christmas decor, and shoppers can consider the inner man and select some goodies from the table of holiday edibles. The evening is being planned as a delight for the home decorator and the discriminating palates of you and your holiday guests.

This year's boutique has been under the direction of Mrs. J. Arthur Sullivan and her committee and they have all put in untold hours creating sparkling ornaments to grace your home and tree.

The preview is open to the public but the committee would appreciate a call from those planning to attend so that a rough count of expected guests may be made. If you are planning to attend please notify Mrs. Sullivan or call Mrs. William Corbett.

Following the opening reception the Boutique will continue in the hospital lobby from November 23 through the 24th.

Proceeds from the event are pledged to the hospital.

JUDGE F. J. DELARIOS was the guest speaker at last month's meeting of Epsilon Sigma Alpha's Beta Sigma Chapter, according to Mrs. Olive Rubek.

Members of the chapter heard the judge discuss the functions of the judicial courts and held a question and answer session at the conclusion of the talk. This month, in keeping with the units concern with current problems, the program will deal with narcotics and a film, Pit of Despair, will be shown.

The meeting will be held in the Daly City City Hall on November 20.

THAT'S THE SOUND of Christmas music wafting from the music room at Westmoor High School these evenings!

Mrs. Patti Parks Stolz, director of the North County Choralers, sponsored by the Jefferson Adult High School, has been putting her class through their holiday repertoire in anticipation of doing a Christmas television special.

Among those faithfully forming the pear shaped tones are Mrs. Priscilla Limneos, of Pacifica, James Brown of South San Francisco; Mrs. Pat Enslin and Bill Hurley of San Bruno, Bill Bird of San Francisco, Teresa Doupe and Rigo Cordova, of Broadmoor and, from the Colma-Daly City region: Mrs. Joyce Frasu, Luis Garcia, John Ingram, Roy Marlow, Kay Kaufman, Mrs. Doreen Marlow, Mrs. Eileen Lester, Jim Palmer and Mrs. Cheryl Duncan, the accompanist.

The Choralers next performance will be at the Lutheran Service Men's Center in San Francisco on November 8.

THIS IS THE LAST WEEKEND of the Annual Aquatic Extravaganza sponsored by the San Francisco Merionettes.

A dozen young North Peninsula girls will be taking part in the show Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Proceeds of the event are used to help finance the swimming unit's entrance into competition by assisting with travel expenses.

Persons wishing to attend the show held in the Balboa Pool are asked to call Mrs. Ralph Hillsman in San Francisco for ticket information.

MEMBERS OF THE Daly City Community Chorus will not meet for a rehearsal this evening as the chorus will be presenting a concert in the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland.

Regular rehearsals will begin again next Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Westmoor Club House. Guests and prospective members are invited to attend.

A GARAGE SALE is slated for this weekend, both Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m., the garage at 321 Alcott Road in the Crestmoor Park section of San Bruno.

The event will be a benefit for the Misty Hills Chapter of the Sweet Adelines, Inc.

A wide variety of items will be offered for sale in an effort to raise travel expenses for the annual trek to the Barber Shop Competition in the spring.

THE WOMEN'S GUILD of the Holy Angel's Parish will hold a rummage sale on Saturday in the Parish Hall, located at 100 San Pedro Road in Colma.

According to Mrs. William Holland a good selection of new and next to new toys, clothing, books, records, and bric-a-brac will be sold. A refreshment table will sell snacks to shoppers who wish to dine while shopping.

Persons wishing more information about the sale or anyone wishing to make a donation is asked to call Mrs. Robert Simon.

Proceeds from the sale will be donated to the parish at the close of the spring term.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS By DONALD C. WAITE

ARE THERE ANY FURNITURE BARGAINS?

Definitely, yes. A piece of furniture which you have purchased at a fair price, which is well made and attractively designed, which looks good and enhances the room where it is used, is a bargain.

But on the other hand, any furniture item which you may have purchased just because you thought it was a bargain is money down the drain unless it is really a good value.

How many of us have been tempted to purchase a so-called bargain simply because of the possible savings, only to find that it became the most expensive item we ever purchased?

Every furniture dealer of integrity runs an occasional sale or clearance of discontinued numbers, odd pieces, or for some other very legitimate reason, but beware of the store that screams SALE 365 days of the year.

When you consider the number of years of use you get from fine quality furniture, you will find that it costs you less per year to own and use than cheaper grades.

Besides, better quality furniture is usually better designed, constructed and finished. In addition, better quality furniture gives you extra pleasure in looking at it and in using it.

'Bold, Colorful' UNICEF Yule Cars Available

To select a UNICEF greeting card this year is like wandering through an art gallery.

Bold color and line, in "The Herald," glorious bursts of color and light in "Holiday Tree," a lively poster technique in the "World of Music," and seventeen other designs by some of the world's gifted artists, are among this year's greetings.

Every greeting extended to a friend can give health or learning to one of the 800 million children in the impoverished areas assisted by UNICEF. One box of cards can buy enough penicillin to cure ten children of yaws.

The 1969 UNICEF engagement calendar is an art book in itself. The theme for this year's calendar is children depicted by 54 artists from 27 different countries in a variety of drawing media. The calendar is available in English and French or Spanish.

The cards and calendars are available in Pacifica from The Periwinkle Art Gallery, 2077 Palmetto Avenue, from Mrs. Nancy Mosher, 1471 Crespi Drive, and from the checkered frog at Pedro Point.

ANN MARIE IMPRESCIA, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmelo Imprescia of South San Francisco, and Nicholas S. Sarles were married recently at the Greek Orthodox Cathedral in San Francisco. Sponsor was Gus Triandos and Karen Bruzenwak was the maid of honor. Joan Marchi and Jean Ann Carroll and Bill Downing and Thomas Lowe completed the wedding party. The new matron was graduated from Mercy High School, attended San Francisco College for Women, and received her bachelor of arts degree from San Francisco State College. She teaches at Serra Vista School in South San Francisco and has two brothers, Ben and Richard. Nicholas is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Spiro Sarles and was graduated from Mission High School. The newlyweds are at home in San Francisco after a honeymoon in Hawaii.

Accompanying the program will be a sale of holiday items donated by members. Proceeds will assist the P-TA to meet its budgetary commitments.

Mrs. Santos Blasquez, president, will preside.

Boutique Book and Bake Sales at Edison

Thomas Edison P-TA will combine a holiday boutique, book fair and bake sale on December 4, from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. in the school's multi-use room.

Hundreds of books, in paperback and hardback, are offered for sale.

The P-TA Executive Board, under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph Schott, ways and means chairman, will offer the holiday boutique. Activities of past weeks have produced many interesting, creative and useful items.

THE DALY CITY GARDEN CLUB'S "Garden of the Month" is the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Julian P. Hargrove of 107 Village Lane, Colma, featuring 250 rose bushes, 45 miniature potted roses and about 50 additional blooming flowers and shrubs. Garden is open to viewing by the public. (Post Photo)

Roses Dominate Julian Hargrove Yard

The garden of Mr. and Mrs. Julian P. Hargrove, 107 Village Lane, Colma—chosen as the Daly City Garden Club's "Garden of the Month"—consisting of 250 rose bushes, 45 miniature potted roses, and approximately 50 additional blooming flowers and shrubs.

Hargrove's gardening experience dates back to his early youth. He resumed his gardening in a more active manner since retiring as executive director of the Columbia Park Boys' Club in 1961.

Since 1968, Hargrove has won many awards from the San Francisco Rose Society, the Daly City Garden Club, and the San Mateo County Rose Society.

A recent exhibit in the horticultural section at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta, showed him to be a top winner. His most recent exhibit in horticulture at the Christmas Holiday Show of the Bay Ocean District, California Garden Clubs Inc., won for him the sweepstakes award.

Hargrove not only specializes in the growing of beautiful roses but prides himself in having planted and cared for 250 potted plants among which are a collection of prize-winning cacti and succulents.

A plaque in the Hargroves' front yard appropriately reads: "The kiss of the sun for pardon." The song of the birds for mirth. One is nearer God's heart in a garden Than anywhere else on earth."

Modern Dance, Panel Talk For Westmoor P-TA

A demonstration of modern dance techniques will be a highlight at the Westmoor High School P-TA meeting November 21, in the school cafeteria.

Following the demonstration by the Modern Dance Group of the girls' physical education department, a business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Peter Markovich, unit president.

A panel of five students and two parents will discuss the topic, "Who Am I? I Am a Young Adult."

Principal Richard Coltrill will be moderator, and members of the audience will participate in a question-and-answer period.

A South San Francisco woman is arranging an informational meeting on the family life education program in the city's schools.

Mrs. Sadie Thompson, 1048 Crestwood Drive, said this week she has obtained permission to use the multi-purpose room at Sunshine Gardens School for a meeting during the first week in December, and "both sides of the issue will be presented."

Three professional spokesmen for the South San Francisco Unified School District and three spokesmen opposed to the sex education program have been invited to participate in the meeting, she said.

"We hope to give the parents of the district an opportunity to evaluate the program and make their own decision about whether or not it is desirable," she said.

Mrs. Thompson, an admitted opponent of the program proposed for the district, said she feels there has been "a great amount of confusion" over the nature of the program.

"This program goes beyond the 'Time of Your Life' film," she said.

Turkey Trot At Crestmoor

This year's turkey trot has been scheduled for 10 a.m.-12 noon at the Crestmoor High School cross-country course on Saturday.

Turkeys will be awarded to winners in the sixth, seventh, eighth and high school divisions.

There will be two divisions for high school boys, one will be for those runners out for cross country or who are classed as track members and the other division will be strictly for novices.

Registrations will be taken in San Bruno War Memorial Recreation Center Building at City Park from November 18 to 22.

Junior Gardeners Capture Awards

Two members of the Gay Tulips Junior Garden Club were winners in the Annual Bay Ocean District Christmas Show at the Hall of Flowers in San Mateo.

Brinn Lyman won blue ribbons in the horticulture division and one blue ribbon in the Christmas decorations division for her Christmas Candy Tree entry.

Carmel Columbello received a third prize award for her Christmas ornament entry.

Next meeting of the Junior Garden Club will be November 30 at 10 a.m. at 25 Southdale Avenue Daly City.

YVONNE NIEUSTADT of Westmoor will play in Jeff Jefferson's "Man of Mode" production.

"The Man of Mode," an English Restoration comedy by Sir George Etherege, is being offered by the drama department at Jefferson High School in Daly City as their fall production.

This production, directed by Jeffrey Wentworth, will be presented Nov. 21, 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. in Room 507.

The play concerns the swinging young London society of the late 17th century and their preoccupation with fashions and boudoir intrigues. The young libertines' humorous rebellion against the strictures and mores of the previous age of Puritanism closely parallels the generation gap situation between today's mod society and that of the Victorian era.

"The Man of Mode" is a creative project initiated by Wentworth as his masters thesis for San Francisco State College. Its purpose is to combine both practical and learning experience for the young actors at Jefferson High School while exposing them to dramatic literature which is rarely done on the secondary level.

Wentworth is being assisted by Miss Terry Gibson and other San Francisco State graduates who are acting as technical designers. The highly stylized set is designed by Gerd Mairandres, whose work has been seen by many Bay Area audiences.

His student assistants are Phil Purganan, Richard Ballorini, Merlin Manley and Lawrence Thush. Sandra Finney, who has worked with the Marin Shakespeare Festival and ACT, designed the elaborate Restoration costumes and wigs. Ann McKay, Margy Talavera, Sheryl Gonzales Holly Nook and Donna Sena are assisting Miss Finney.

David Graham Scott Tiraschi and Mike Hess are assisting David Runnels, the lighting designer.

This will be the second production in the new stage facility that was designed by Richard Davis specifically for the Jefferson High School Drama Department.

For many members of the cast this is their first dramatic experience while others have a long resume of previous productions.

Ray Howard, who plays Dor-

imant, has done many leading roles at Jefferson and attended the ACT Workshop last summer.

Tom Winterhalter and Richard Talavera also have a long list of impressive roles, and both have performed with the San Francisco State Summer Workshop.

Dorothy Redmond, who plays Lady Lovell, and Leon Calvin, who plays Medley, combine their acting skills with their many student government activities.

Two of the leading roles are being played by students from rival high schools; Ivonne

Nienstadt, who plays Bellinda, is from Westmoor and Bob Wagner, who plays Young Belair, is from Serramonte.

The cast also includes Tom Neary as Sir Fopling Flutter, Irene O'Neill as Harriet, Sue Trefrey as Emilia, Jo Long as Lady Townley and Fern Tracey as Pert.

Other supporting players include Cyndy Spitzer, Wendy Woolery, Al Bertini and John Burrus.

Tickets for "The Man of Mode" may be purchased at Jefferson High School or at the door the nights of performances.

ART SHOW — Luther Spraker, Sharon Almeida and Bob Southworth, members of the Pacifica Art Guild, look over an exhibit in club's formal art show, held November 16 and 17 at the Pedro Point Firehouse in Pacifica. Cash award prizes were awarded by prominent Bay Area judges.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Skyline College Planning San Bruno Opening in Fall

Defeat of San Mateo Junior College District's $3.1 million bond proposal at the November 5 general election will not alter plans to open new Skyline College next fall.

That point was made clear last night at a meeting of district trustees at College of San Mateo.

Action aimed at completing the third district campus in San Bruno moved ahead on two important fronts during the session as trustees heard Matteo Fasanaro assistant superintendent for business declare:

"The result of the election was damaging but we will somehow make the necessary accommodations so that Skyline can be ready for students by September, 1969, even though there may have to be some makeshift arrangements to enable us to keep that commitment."

Passage of the bonds would have provided funds for construction of a key building at Skyline as well as two institutional structures at Canada College which opened in September in Redwood City.

The second phase concerned another call for bids on installation of site utilities. All initial bids were rejected last month as being too far above the estimated cost. The work has since been re-evaluated by the architects, and economies in design effected wherever possible without sacrificing adequate quality.

In tackling additional items on their agenda, the trustees:

1. Authorized Philip C. Garlington, acting superintendent, to notify County Manager E. R. Stallings that while the college district would be interested in seeing a sheriff's helicopter patrol program established no district funds are available to help finance such a venture.

2. Approved application for more than $1.6 million in federal funds for student aid during the 1969-70 fiscal year at the district's three colleges, to finance work-study opportunities, grants and loans. Fasanaro said the total application for the district for the current year with two colleges in operation) amounted to approximately $345,000 of that total.

3. Heard a report from Dr. Frank C. Pearce, head of the College of San Mateo research office, that if CSM wants to do its utmost to help low-ability students succeed in their classes, "some specific program or action will need to be initiated." The present practice, at many institutions such as CSM, of seeking special counsel-

Pacifica To Quit District

A request that the subdivided areas of Pacifica be withdrawn from the San Mateo County Soil Conservation District was submitted to the Local Agency Formation Commission in Redwood City yesterday.

City Attorney John R. Sharman told the commission that the property owners pay some $1,500 a year in taxes to the district and get no services in return. The soil conservation district, Sherman explained, was of value to the area when it was rural and unincorporated. Rural areas within the cities would remain in the district, he said.

The matter was continued to November 20 to give district officials a chance to respond.

Cyclists Caught In Chase

Two San Francisco men on a stolen motorcycle led Daly City police on a merry chase through the upper Mission section of the city Sunday night.

The case ended when the motorcycle struck a curb at the corner of Rhine and Wilson streets and sent the two suspects tumbling onto the pavement.

Arrested as they tried to scramble to freedom was Rene Wayne Bunkley, 22, of 3788 Mission Street, and Gino Ross Heinicke, 22, of 1984 Anderson Street, both of San Francisco.

The motorcycle's owner, Dennis M. LaBounty, of 1509 Royal Avenue, San Mateo, in what can only be described as sheer coincidence, spotted the two suspects riding his motorcycle in Daly City.

He began chasing the pair and as the two vehicles sped along Mission Street, Officer C. Phillips joined the chase near the corner of Rice and Mission streets.

Attempts to shake the patrol car were unsuccessful and the motorcycle with its two riders skidded out of control as it tried to turn a corner on Wilson, hitting the curb.

New Pay Less Opens in Mateo

The 62,000-square-foot building, designed by the San Francisco architectural firm of Harada & Men, contains approximately 60,000 feet of selling space. The $2.5 million structure

Skaggs Pay Less Drug Stores, Oakland-based super-drug chain, today officially opened the company's newest store in San Mateo.

The red carpet was literally rolled out at the opening ceremonies welcoming city and county officials, the news media, local businessmen, representatives of Pay Less supplier companies and friends and neighbors.

The San Mateo Pay Less is on 7½ acres of land at 666 Concar Drive, between South Grant and South Delaware Avenues, just off the Nineteenth Avenue Freeway.

also will house an Albertson's Food Center, to be opened shortly. Parking is provided for approximately 500 cars.

Robert Brotherton, manager, will head a staff of some 150 full-time and seasonal part-time employees. Assistant managers are Paul Liddle, Dick Harker, Dick Westerfield and Ray Hayes.

Head pharmacist Richard Schrammel supervises the modern pharmacy. Skilled pharmacists will be on duty seven days a week to fill prescriptions.

Other departments will include: Cosmetics and toiletries, garden and nursery shop, camera and electronics supplies, housewares and hardware, clothing (men's, women's and children's), jewelry, liquor and wines, television and major appliances and small appliances and radios.

In addition to the new San Mateo Pay Less, the 23-store California chain has stores in Anaheim, Bakersfield, Fresno, San Jose, Mountain View, San Francisco, Fremont, Oakland, San Pablo, Pleasant Hill, Stockton, Sacramento and Riverside.

New units under construction or in final planning stages are in Sacramento, Modesto, Lakeview and Santa Barbara.

Pay Less plans to open an additional store in the Canoga Park-Winnetka Area of Los Angeles later this month.

Contract For New Ramps

The award of a State Highway contract for the Millbrae ramps off the Bayshore was announced today in Sacramento by James A. Moe, state director of public works.

A $126,712.75 contract went to Lowrie Paving Company of South San Francisco for construction of additional ramps on the Bayshore Freeway (Route 101)-Millbrae Avenue interchange in Millbrae.

The contract will be funded jointly by the California Division of Highways and the City of Millbrae with the local agency providing $24,200 of the total.

The new construction is required to service traffic brought to the area by the industrial complexes that have developed in recent years in the vicinity of San Francisco International Airport.

The contract authorizes the Lowrie Company 60 working days on the job.

Middle Child Is Subject Of Meeting

"Jamie, The Child in the Middle," a movie sponsored by PACE (Planning to Accelerate Change in Education), will be shown immediately after the short business meeting of Avalon School P-TA on Thursday, in South San Francisco at 8 p.m. in the school's multi-purpose room.

The movie deals with the "Middle Child" and some of the common errors of parents in dealing with their children. This film and discussion period is designated "For Parents Only," so that they will be more at ease to discuss any problems or questions that may arise.

After the movie, parent group discussions will be held under supervision of a PACE director and social workers, during which time refreshments will be served by the kindergarten room mothers.

Mrs. Raymond Angeli, program chairman, suggests this is an opportunity to discuss and ask any questions regarding a "Child in the Middle's" adjustment. There are times when a child on either end acts like a "Child in the Middle," so this film and discussion period may help if there is a problem in this area.

Ho Hum—S.S.F. Does It Again: Wins

Slipping and Sliding to Victory

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO High School quarterback Willie Ergas was nailed by unidentified tackler on this play, but three plays later scored a touchdown from three yards out to give the Warriors 6-0 lead over Westmoor High School in game last Friday at South San Francisco. SSF won the

Westmoor Fails Its Title Test

By JERRY LITTELL
Post Sports Writer

Seasons come and go, the numbers and young faces change but the dominance of South San Francisco High School in North Peninsula League football seems destined to remain for years to come.

Playing virtually flawless football on the quagmire known as Clifford Field, the SSF Warriors wrapped up their fifth straight league crown with a 21-14 victory over second-place Westmoor on Friday. It was the 29th league win in a row for Ray Dejong's charges and gave them an over-all 8-0-1 record for this 1968 record-setting season.

Rain had soaked the turf for three days to the point where the sidelines were submerged in inches of slick mud and the field was covered with a heavy coating of straw to help soak up the wetness. Drizzly conditions, though, did little to damage the passing and running game of the champs, who actually held a 21-7 lead with just 14 seconds left in the game.

One of the main Warrior weapons has always been the ability to capitalize on opponents' mistakes. With Westmoor playing back about 15 yards out of respect for end Ashland Whitfield's speed, the Warriors went to a short passing game to Whitfield to set up the first touchdown on the initial drive. Quarterback Willie Ergas, with another splendid keeper from the three in the did outing, busted through on first period.

Halfback Jim Lewis brought the Rams back after a punt exchange when he slanted over right tackle and busted loose for 83 yards by outrunning the speedy Warrior defense down the sidelines.

Then out of the mud emerged diminutive Lory Bernardini, the Warriors' own Wizard of Ooze, who slithered and splashed his way towards his sixth straight 100-yard mark by setting up and scoring the next two Warrior TDs. The last one, which came on a three-yard power play, came shortly after Ergas left the game with a twisted knee in the third period.

Lady Luck smiled on the Warriors earlier also when punter Rocky Walker had a bad snap sail over his head and land near the end zone. He picked the ball up and started running towards three Westmoor linemen who had a full head of steam. Deciding that wasn't the smartest direction to run he had ever chosen, he slipped along the sidelines and not only eluded the safety danger but picked up the first down to keep the ball away from the Rams in the last minute of the half.

Westmoor scored its final TD when Lewis pulled his way into the end zone after taking a Joel Carrara pass from the eight. But the ensuing Ram outside kick attempt failed and the Warriors ran out the clock.

"I thought we played one heck of a half game but South City was just too tough and too precise for us tonight," lamented Ram coach Pete Mattioli. "Steve Powell and Lewis, each played excellent games as did most of our defensive units but we just couldn't contain that passing game."

Dejong lauded everyone on the squad but had special praise for Ergas ("My all-league quarterback") and Whitfield ("A top-flight pass catcher").

Both coaches agreed, however, that the slick game made a difference in the final scoring totals.

"I think a drier field would have made for a much higher-scoring game," Dejong noted. "We couldn't get untracked running so we had to take advantage of the passing game."

47 MINUTES OF ZEROES

Christmas Comes Early For Tangs

The Crestmoor High School Falcons have gotten the Yuletide spirit of giving rather than receiving a bit too early.

Yet, Capuchino High School, the recipients of the Falcon generosity, couldn't be happier.

The Falcons and the Mustangs battled for over forty-seven minutes in scoreless fashion on Friday, before Cap end Jim Geyer pounced on a wild Crestmoor snap from center in the end zone to give the Mustangs their initial victory of the Mid-Peninsula League season, 6-0.

Neither team could generate any semblance of an offense on the sloshy Burlingame High School field. The victors limited Crestmoor to just eighty-three total yards and but four first downs.

The Falcons nearly broke the muddy scoring ice early in the third period when Dave Thompson picked off an errant Dennis Haag aerial at the Falcon forty-six and wallowed his way down the right sideline to the Mustang four.

Three plays and one penalty later an alert mud-drenched Cap lineman pounced on the slippery pigskin in the end zone, squelching the Falcons scoring threat.

Late in the final period, Gordy Young's Green and Gold, once a powerhouse in the MPL, yet currently tied for the cellar position this season by virtue of this conquest, initiated the only sustained drive of the evening.

In ten plays Cap drove 45 yards to the Falcon twenty, only to lose momentum on a clipping penalty. Crestmoor took over and, five plays later, Geyer achieved his heroics and Cap had a league win.

Both squads have awhile to unmake the mud and dry off before their next game. The Falcons have quite a long time, as this was their final game of the year, the most successful ever for the San Bruno School, while Cap must prepare for its curtain-closer against Mills Thanksgiving afternoon.

Football Formations

YES, EVERYTHING does come full cycle, even if only temporarily. We can't locate the exact column, but a year or so ago we said, in effect, that despite all of the fancy formations and technical terminology, all football formations are based on either the Pop Warner double wing or Clark Shaughnessy's T-formation, and that some day a pro team would whip heck out of somebody by running at 'em with a straight-T — three running backs and two "Tight" ends — and the coach of that team would be hailed as a genius.

It happened sooner than we thought. As you no doubt know by now, Kansas City whipped the Raiders a few weeks ago with a strange formation featuring three "running backs," to mix in the current terminology, and two "tight" ends, and Hank Stram was hailed as a coaching genius... at least for the week.

In the Oakland game the Chiefs ran strictly from the "old" T. And while doing it to a lesser degree (Chief QB Len Dawson tried only three passes in that game, which was rare even in Shaughnessy's day) it's conceded that its fine record has something to do with the even occasional use of the T.

Now on to the next we-told-you-so. Several years ago we did a column poking fun at current football jargon and the "changing" of established positions. We could never understand how, for instance, the fullback and halfback in football had been suddenly eliminated, to be replaced by just "running back."

So in the Sporting News several issues ago San Francisco's Ken Willard was interviewed and in explaining certain plays he slipped and referred to a running back as a fullback.

He then caught himself, chuckled, and admitted that despite the terminology there are still such things in professional football as fullbacks and halfbacks and that there is still a difference between halfbacks and fullback in terms of the ways holes are hit, blocking assignments, etc.

Thank you, Hank Stram and Ken Willard, for making an old fashioned football fan feel not so square any more.

ANOTHER LEFT-OVER from the Bowtie Walsh interviews (when you turn out 12-1500 words a week, you learn to be economical):

"The Russians, even in 1955, had a solid basic knowledge of basketball, but some naive concepts of the game.

For instance, they had a couple of giants that they had brought in to play basketball. They felt, having seen films of some of our big men, that height was the only requirement to greatness in basketball.

"Some of the big boys had been literally drafted to play basketball and had no desire to play. I had to point out to the Federation people that with bigness had to come mobility, and perhaps even more important, desire, and further suggested they send their big lumberjacks back to the woods, where they'd be happy being good at their jobs instead of just being goons. I'm happy to say that — at least at the time — they heeded my advice.

"You never saw so many happy Ukraine lumberjacks in your life."

NO TRUE SPORTS FAN can feel elated about the crippling injury to Chicago's great runner, Gayle Sayers. But we can't help noting the irony in a 49er cutting down a great Chicago back during a season when the Bears could conceivably have been headed for at least a divisional title.

As we saw Sayers carried off the field, our mind flashed back to Kezar Stadium, 1954. The 49ers were undefeated and Hugh McElhenny was having his greatest year. The Bears came into town and were being beaten, as we recall, when McElhenny was tackled and then piled on by the Bears after the play was over. His shoulder was broken and he was out for the year. The Bears went on to win. The 49ers were knocked out of title hopes, and Hurryin' Hugh was never quite the same again.

George Halas, as we remember it, showed no remorse. At least Kermitt Alexander's tackle wasn't a cheap shot.

THREE QUOTES remain vividly in memory, for one reason or another; utterances which we would like to place in nomination as the Baseball Quotes of the Year. They follow:

(By Alvin Dark, in August, and which we think can only be called "most fantastic").

"I don't worry about Detroit. I figure that 94 wins should take it, or be right up there, and that's what I'm aiming for."

(Poor old Alvin. Detroit won 103, so what good would his 94 — had he gotten them — have done him? According to Alvin, you shoot to beat par, not your opponent. You might beat par a lot of times that way but you won't make much money.)

(From Pittsburgh General Manager Joe Brown about reelection of manager Larry Shepard, which we put down as "Best Common Sense" quote of the year.)

"The front office is more to blame than Shepard (for the Pirates' disappointing season). Shepard has done an excellent job under difficulty. He's had numerous problems over which he had no control, such as injuries."

(From the original Mr. Humble, nice guy Ernie Banks. We'll have to fake this one, because we've misplaced the exact quote, but this is it, in essence.)

"I really don't know anything but baseball." (Could you imagine Denny McLain or Maury Wills saying that?)

AND WHILE WE'RE still on baseball, a few last parting comments.

Like Mickey Lolich revealing that he won that first world series game despite an infection because of a "shot" given him by the team trainer before the game.

Which is to say he was doped up, and we hope the younger generation doesn't take Mickey's endorsement of "shots" as re-Negro baseball players, he drew relatively little publicity when he became the first to break the color barrier with the Yankees.

"The shot relaxed me so much," said Lolich, "that I didn't know, just as unobtrusive, he drew hardly more than a paragraph or two a couple of weeks ago when he became the American League's first Negro coach... for the Yankees, again."

If you're still thinking about expansion... A friend said recently that you don't see the old-timers hanging around the minor leagues anymore, like they used to. Of course you don't. Now they're hanging around the major leagues.

For the fourth time in seven years, College of San Mateo has swept all Golden Gate Conference team honors in cross-country.

On Friday, the Bulldogs added the conference finals and individual championship to an unbeaten league season as all five CSM runners finished among the first 15.

Led by repeating individual champion Mike Dailey from Sequoia High, CSM totaled 42 points, far ahead of second place Chabot (78) and third place City College of San Francisco (83) in the eight team race.

The third straight year the CSM men have crowned the league's individual champion and the fourth time since the conference was established in 1962.

Not-So-Fond CSM Farewell

Post Sports Writer

College of San Mateo's grid-ers bid a not-so-fond farewell to the less-than-fruited 1968 football season last Saturday.

The Bulldog defensive unit, which has had moments of sheer greatness this season, betrayed them in the season finale as City College of San Francisco ran up a 28-15 victory over Bill Dickey's crew. The loss dropped CSM, 1-4-1 in Golden Gate Conference play, to fifth place. CCSF is 4-2.

Apparently just out of gas after a season which saw them carry as much offensive load as defense, the Bulldog defenders allowed the powerful and aggressive Rams to slice through for a massive 436 yards on the ground.

Once more, for the last time this year, the Bulldogs were unable to mount a serious ground game threat as they garnered just 24 yards total with four players being dropped to minus yardage by the alert CCSF line. Tony Lampkins was the leading local runner with 57 yards in 16 carries.

The Bulldogs did, however, loosen up their passing game with soph quarterback Mike Costanzo experiencing a most productive afternoon. He tossed the ball 21 times with 11 completions for 126 yards. Sub thrower Jerry Mullins added another 95 yards in the air to bring the total offense up to a respectable 252 yards.

Trailing 21-0 in the second period by virtue of some fantastic high-average running by the visiting Rams' Josiah Bell (218 yards in 14 carries), Dickey's crew did score before intermission when Costanzo hit flanker Mike Barr with a 38-yarder. Against the Rams' second-liners, Mullins found Dan English, who had an excellent day after dropping a few early in the game, for the final score on a 73-yard bullet.

The Rams biggest problem was their aggressiveness which cost them 135 yards in penalties as the flag dropped 15 times. With the potent running game mustered by the Rams it seems strange that they lost to Diablo Valley, a little more balanced but less explosive squad.

Runners should have certification that they have trained for the event, and runners under 17 must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

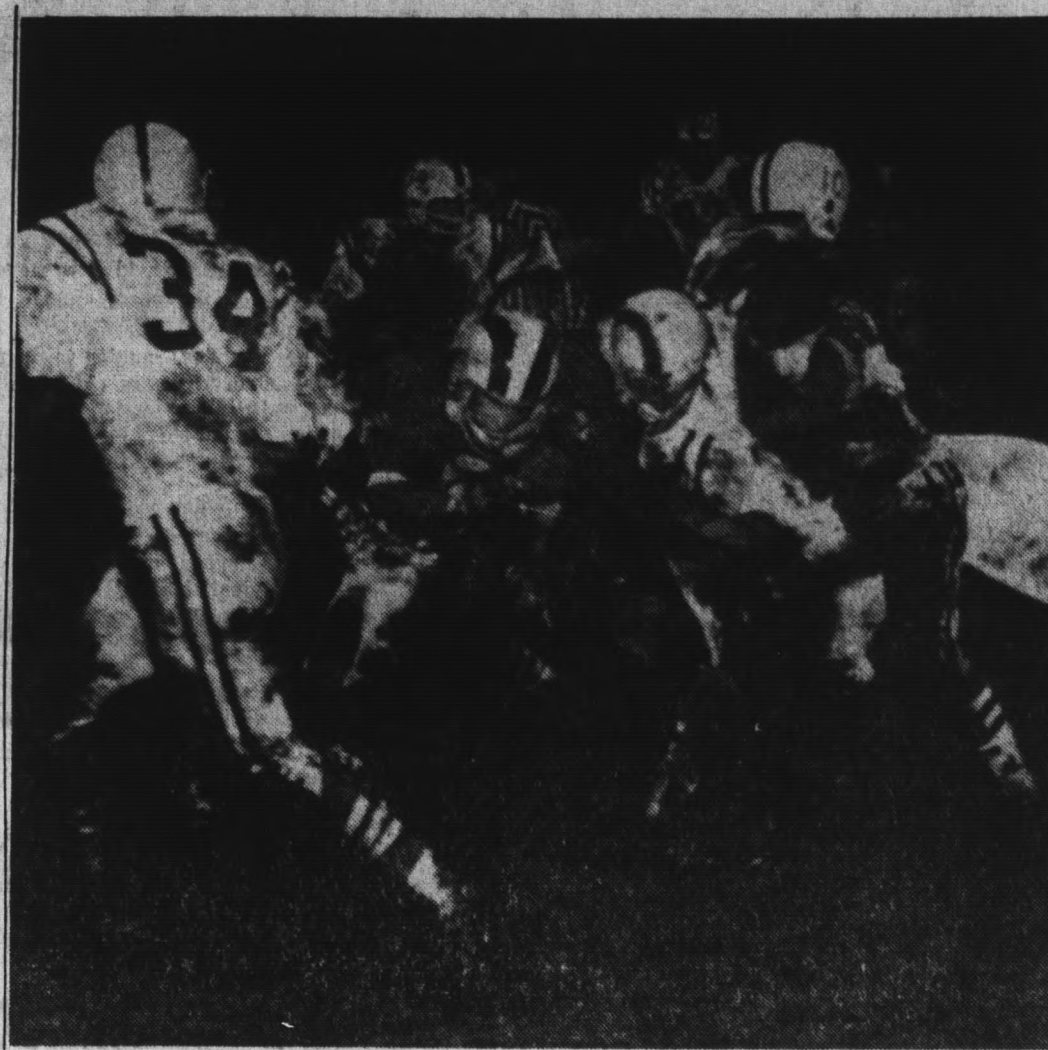

Awards will be given for the following classifications: High School Division—

Individual trophies for the first five places and team trophies for the first two places.

Open Division — Individual trophies for the first five places and team trophies for the first two places.

40 years and older Division—Individual trophies for the first two places.

Certificates will be awarded all finishers.

IT WAS a slip and slide ball game, turfwise, but not performance-wise for the South San Francisco High School grid team as it capped another season with a victory over Westmoor High Friday. For S.S.F., was the annexation of another NPL title — its fifth straight. Mud obscures players (Post Photo)

CSM Mermen Share Title

The College of San Mateo water polo team salvaged at least part of the pride of the hilltop blasting San Jose City College 11-7 to take a share of the Golden Gate Conference crown.

The Bulldogs finished the season with a 9-1 mark. This is the second year they have shared the title.

S.S.F. Board Reschedules

Youths Arrested: 'Grass' on Grass

Five youths were arrested Saturday at the Jefferson High School athletic field as they lounged on the grass smoking marijuana.

The juveniles, ranging in age from 16 to 17 years old, were charged with possession of marijuana and being in a place where marijuana is being used or smoked.

Daly City police officer John McHenry spotted the boys gathered around a motorcycle on the ball field smoking. As he approached the group he smelled the pungent odor of marijuana.

A search of the boys, following their arrest, revealed a small quantity of the drug in a plastic bag on a 17-year-old, an assortment of zigzag papers (used for rolling marijuana cigarettes) and some "loose" marijuana in another youth's pocket, police said.

The youths — all sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center — were not identified because of their ages.

Sentence For D.C. Woman

A Daly City woman who pleaded guilty to a charge of welfare fraud has been given a 90-day suspended sentence in county jail. Municipal Judge Charles Backer placed the defendant, Mrs. Juanita Guierrez, 39, of 360 Peoria Street, on summary probation for a year and ordered her to repay the county $608.

Inspector G. H. Tovar noted that Mrs. Guierrez entered into an agreement with the welfare department last May to make restitution on a monthly schedule.

The charge was that she failed to disclose income received from her husband's employment as a landscaper.

The new Manager for Buick Motor Division's San Francisco Zone is Clarence D. Lady. His appointment was announced recently by O. F. Frost, General Sales Manager.

Lady succeeds B. B. Sorrells who goes to Detroit as Zone Manager. Lady started with Buick Motor Division in 1956 as District Manager in the Detroit Zone. He then went to Cleveland as Car Distributor in 1957, to Detroit as Assistant Zone Manager in 1958, and to El Paso as Zone Manager in 1963. He went to Oklahoma City as Zone Manager in January 1965 and to Portland in December 1965.

Thirty-two Alfa Romeo Sports Car Club of America Thursday have been invited to participate in the American Road Race of Champions race in Riverside, California during November 20-24, 1968. These drivers represent those first six in each car class, based upon their total point standing at the close of the 1968 S.C.C.A. racing season.

Each of the S.C.C.A.'s Division selects their top six drivers in each class to compete against other Division's best driver. The winner of the A.R.R.C. "run off" is then the National champion for 1968 for his particular car class.

Alfa Romeo's strong representation of 32 drivers speaks highly of the skill of the drivers as well as the popularity of the Alfa's stable high performance design concept as applied to production cars, a company spokesman said.

Convalescent Home Show

The generation gap was bridged successfully at 1:30 p.m. when the Westmoor-Serramonte Girls Chorus recently sang at the Saint Francis Heights Convalescent Home in Daly City.

A large number of residents gathered for the 30-minute concert and indicated by their enthusiastic response that there was communication — a message understood and enjoyed.

The chorus of 60 girls is made up of students from both Serramonte and Westmoor High Schools and is under the direction of Mrs. Darlene Ironside.

This group plans a busy schedule of performances throughout the coming year including a program of Christmas music at Serramonte Shopping Center on December 16.

Wesley Church Guest Speaker

"The Churches' Cooperative Mission" will be the sermon topic of Dr. Kermit White as he addresses the congregation of Wesley Methodist Church, 1474 Southgate Avenue, Sunday at 11 a.m.

Dr. White serves on the West Coast for the National Council of the Churches of Christ.

He is an interpreter of the conciliar movement and seeks to be a catalyst for seeking new commitment to the ecumenical movement.

Reverend White has pastored in West Virginia, Massachusetts and California in the Congregational Church (now United Church of Christ), and served as paratroop chaplain during World War II and in the Korean War.

Guest Speaker At Westside Baptist

The Rev. James Selander, director of God's Invasion Army, will be the guest speaker November 24 at the 7 p.m. Westside Baptist Family Fellowship Gospel Hour.

For the past four years, Rev. Selander has directed the Home Mission Outreach ministry for the Baptist General Conference.

Prior to this he pastored Conference Baptist Churches. Rev. Selander will tell of the blessings the army has been to churches, and in particular to the churches of Northern California this fall. Members of the team will present the special music for this service.

Sunday at 8:15 p.m., the teachers and officers of the Sunday school will meet, and time will be given to the planning of the annual Sunday School Christmas program.

DC Lutherans To Attend Conference

The South Pacific District Lutheran League (Arizona, California, Hawaii, Nevada, New Mexico, and Utah) of the American Lutheran Church will hold its annual convention at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel from November 29 through December 1.

Those attending the convention from Westlake Lutheran Church will be Fred Kornahrens, Carol Love, Carol Nevins, Pat Ayers, Mrs. John Kornahrens and the Rev. Thomas J. Unmacht, the pastor.

The 1,500 youths who will attend will hear the Rev. L. David Brown, executive director of the division of youth activity for the ALC, and Bill Atherton, Stanford University student, speak on "World Hunger."

The youth will spend the weekend confronting the issue of world hunger and economic justice.

No food will be served during the convention, and many youths have expressed the desire to fast in order to help them become more aware of the plight of the hungry of the world.

The CBS film "Hunger in America" will be shown and Jonn Rydgren of the Silhouette program, now reaching thousands across the United States, will be included as part of the convention's activities.

Pastor Unmacht has served on one of the various committees arranging for the convention.

Highlights of the convention and strategies for action will be discussed by the Westlake Lutheran youth group at their meeting on December 1.

SABBATH SERVICES
Congregation B'nai Israel will hold Sabbath Services November 22 in observance of the Congregation's sixtieth year. Services will be conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Henry Greenberg at 8:30 p.m.

Newsman To Lead Church Teen Project

Pastor Don Sheley of Calvary Cross Church in Daly City has announced that Ray Mossholder, news director of radio station KEAR-FM in San Francisco, has joined the church as youth pastor.

Mossholder is also general director of the Greater East Bay Youth for Christ and hosts a weekly teen-aged radio program, "Spotlight on Teens," heard over four Northern California radio stations and in Lima, Ohio.

Before entering radio, he was a high school speech and drama teacher for six years.

"As a new director it is my job to be a realist," stated Mossholder upon accepting the position. "Teen-agers today are demanding action, but more than that, they are demanding answers. They want to know why their world is falling down around them. There are reasons, but they are answers too, and there is more to life than most people ever have the joy of discovering."

Besides designing Sunday evening services with a teen emphasis, new programs have been set up to involve the teen-agers.

Rather than calling it "Sunday school," the teenagers now meet at 9:45 a.m. for an "action" meeting.

A teen-aged study in the Book of John is being held at that time. At 6 p.m. "Seminar 68" meets at the church.

The high school students are introduced to a Christian who shares his faith with them.

For example, Ollie Cotterell, the former girl's chaplain at Los Angeles Juvenile Hall, was a recent Sunday guest.

"Key club is held on Thursday evenings at 7:15. Students share their biggest questions with each other and the Bible is used to see how God answers these questions.

An attendance contest has been launched to help increase the enrollment in these groups, with an award to be given in December of two expense-paid trips to Disneyland.

CLOSED THANKSGIVING DAY

We will be Closed Thurs., Nov. 28, Thanksgiving Day so that all of our employees may enjoy the holiday with their family and friends in the spirit of heartfelt thankfulness. As Thanksgiving draws near... We at ALEC wish you and your family our best for a most enjoyable and Happy Holiday!

Quick Dishes With a Flair for Time-Saving Holiday Meals

Nobody feels like cooking an elegant meal after a full day of shopping or package-wrapping. Yet, the holiday season frequently means unexpected guests or company from out of town.

Don't let the busy holiday schedule overwhelm you. With a little imagination and a supply of shelf-stable cans of chicken broth and boned chicken you can create inexpensive, quick and delicious meals that look and taste entirely homemade.

For a hearty meal-in-a-dish soup, try Company Chicken Soup. Only you will know that this eye-appealing treat started with canned chicken and broth.

The personal touches that make it your very own recipe are the ingredients you add, and the colorful toppings you serve with it.

Crunchy additions — crisp chopped bacon, diced hard-boiled egg, chopped scallions and cucumbers — can be offered to guests in a pick-and-choose manner that makes dinner more festive.

Cooking time for the soup? Only 15 minutes. Serve it with hot, buttered rolls, and you'll have a meal worth repeating throughout the new year.

Canned chicken broth is also the basis of Specialty of the House Sauce.

This savory sauce is delicious on poultry, ham or veal leftovers. Or, fill a shallow oven-proof platter or casserole with cooked rice mixed with peas, chopped pimiento and slivered almonds. Top the rice mixture with left-over chicken, turkey or ham, and spoon on some Specialty of the House Sauce. Then, simply heat the dish in a 350-degree F. oven, and serve with additional sauce on the side.

An excellent and easy Curry Sauce can also turn left-over meats into a delicious time-saving meal. Or, stir-the flaked contents of a 13-ounce can of boned chicken into the Curry Sauce and serve the resulting Chicken Curry on a bed of hot rice garnished with bright green parsley sprigs.

Ease of preparation and relatively short cooking time are the key to the convenience of these recipes. Keep these factors in mind as you plan all of your holiday season menus. You'll wind up a happier, more relaxed hostess if you do.

COMPANY CHICKEN SOUP
3 cans (13½ fl. oz.) chicken broth

¼ cup sauterne, optional
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon tarragon
1 can (13 oz.) boned chicken, flaked
1½ cups canned or frozen green peas
1 can (5 oz.) water chestnuts, sliced
1-3 cup sliced ripe olives
Garnishes: chopped cooked bacon, diced hard-boiled egg, chopped scallions and cucumbers

Combine soup ingredients and cook over a low flame for 15 minutes. Serve with garnishes in individual bowls or on one serving tray. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SPECIALTY OF THE HOUSE SAUCE
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons chopped scallions or shallots
1-3 cup sliced mushrooms, fresh or canned
2 tablespoons flour
1 can (13½ fl. oz.) chicken broth

2 egg yolks
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning, if desired
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

In a small skillet, cook scallions in butter until wilted; add mushrooms and continue cooking briefly. Blend in flour, then add chicken broth. Stirring constantly, cook over medium heat until sauce is smooth and thickened; remove from heat. Beat egg yolks, blend a little of the hot mixture into beaten yolks, then pour them into sauce. Add seasonings and return to heat. Cook, stirring, about 2 minutes. Serve.

Makes approximately 2 cups.
CURRY SAUCE
4 tablespoons butter
2-3 cup finely chopped onion
½ cup finely chopped carrot
1 cup finely chopped unpeeled apple
3 minced garlic cloves
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons curry powder
1 can (13½ fl. oz.) chicken broth

¼ teaspoon fresh grated ginger or chopped preserved ginger

Melt butter in a saucepan or skillet; saute onion, carrot, apple and garlic. Cover the pan and simmer for 15 minutes; add flour, salt and curry powder. Slowly stir in chicken broth; cook until thickened, stirring continuously. Add ginger and coconut; cover and simmer 10 more minutes. Serve.
Makes approximately 3 cups. (Courtesy, College Inn.)

Wives Work

There are about 15 million working wives in the U.S. Their income: over $35 billion yearly. Some of this money goes into convenience foods and meals-away-from-home.

Both of these convenience foods and meals eaten out, are major factors in today's food costs as women seek to save time in the kitchen in order to have more time for other activities. Above all, women do not want to neglect their family food needs.

Lamb Dish Made With Potato Chips

Men's interest in cooking has stimulated women to become better cooks. All over the country increased enrollment of men and women in schools and classes of cookery is reported, according to a study made by the Potato Chip Institute International, the sponsors of the Men's National Cooking Championship, now in its 9th year. Tempting prizes will be sought by entrants who submitted original recipes before the November 15, deadline.

For instance, here's a prize-winning recipe form the last competition:

LAMB SHANKS SUPREME

(Serves 8-10)
6 Lamb Shanks
2 Cups Potato Chip meal (made by crushing 1-12 oz. bag of Potato Chips with a rolling pin)
¼ Teaspoon Rosemary crumbled
Fresh ground black pepper to taste
¼ Cup salad oil
¼ Cup Chopped Chives or scallion tops
¼ Cup finely chopped celery
¼ Cup finely chopped carrots
1 Large clove of garlic chopped (not pressed)
¼ Cup red wine (or tomato juice)
¼ Cup beef or chicken broth (or water)
Milk for dipping

Mix potato chip meal with rosemary and pepper. Wet lamb shanks on all sides with milk and roll in the dry mixture, coat thoroughly.

Put oil in Dutch Oven or casserole and heat slowly with chives, add lamb shanks turning and browning on all sides. Then add fluids (broth and wine) and bake covered at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

To serve remove shanks from casserole and place on warm platter.

Thicken sauce with an additional half cup of potato chip meal and pour over meat. Serve with fried or broiled Tomatoes dipped in same mixture. Add ¼ orange for each serving if desired (a delightful complementary flavor).

Here's How To Read It

When a homemaker sees 15 pounds registered on a meat package at the supermarket, she should not take this to mean one pound and five ounces of meat. It means one and one-half pounds or one pound, eight ounces.

Automatic weighing and pricing machinery computes these in intervals of ten.

Jeff High Students Work 177,300 Hours on Jobs

Jefferson High School students participating in the Work Experience Education Program last year worked about 177,300 hours on 84 different types of jobs, WEEP Director Michael Orlich reported last week.

The Work Experience Program allows students to earn money, while obtaining high school credit and gain valuable job assistance while applying school-learned skills to realistic job situations, Orlich explained.

He said that, in addition to the regular school term, the program was extended into the summer months, with the summer phase divided into Work Experience, Neighborhood

Youth Corps and Community Action Council categories.

The Work Experience Education staff processed papers for over 210 students who were employed, regularly during the summer months. Additionally, Orlich said, "Our office handled and acted as a clearing house for many requests from graduates and other students for employment."

The NYC summer program received a federal allocation sufficient to enroll 54 youths, who received $1.25 an hour for a 26-hour work week.

Orlich explained that youths in the NYC summer program had to be from a low-income family and be between the ages of 14 and 21.

The Community Action Council received a county appropriation of some $24,000 to allow employment of 30 additional youth during the summer, all but four of whom were used by the City of Daly City, Orlich said.

Orlich noted that the county considered the Jefferson program the most successful in the county during the summer.

During the regular term, more than 2,000 students were interviewed, Orlich pointed out, noting that some 600 student applications are pending.

Tabulation of students processed at each of the Jefferson District high schools:

Jefferson: credit, 110; non-credit, 14; Oceana: credit, 42; non-credit, 10; Terra Nova: credit, 51; non-credit, 11; Thornton: credit, 16; non-credit, 2; Westmoor: credit, 57; non-credit, 17.

The role of the Work Experience Education staff is to provide job promotion, counseling of students, selection and referral of students, verification to determine which students are accepted by employers and why others are rejected, and periodic evaluation of enrollees.

In addition, Orlich said, the staff supervises issuance of work permits, keeps appropriate records and supervises students on the credit program.

Orlich explained that students are entitled to school credit for each semester's participation in WEEP if he is employed on a job deemed to have "significant educational value under the vocational, general or exploratory program, if the job is approved by the WEEP office and the student's counselor, and if the student begins work at a time during the day when high school classes are in session.

The student must be regularly enrolled in school during the semester for which credit is granted.

Jobs in which students were placed included:

Bakery helper, bank clerk, blue-print apprentice, cashier, cart boy, sales clerk, clerk-typist, domestic, mail clerk, patient escort, engineering assistant, cook, receptionist, television apprentice, sheetmetal apprentice, vendor, warehouseman, jewelry designer, maintenance, machine operator, postal assistant, stereo installer, teacher's aide, usherette, bill collector, playground leader and pizza cook.

In Orlich's report, he included several statements from students citing the value of the program to them.

Among the statements:

"Before I got this job I didn't know what I was going to do. Now I have experience as a switchboard operator, and I plan to continue with this work."

"Although my work experience has not actually affected my vocational plans, it has greatly affected me. I have gained a great deal of insight into other people..."

"I never thought of working for the government, but now that I more or less understand how it functions, I find it very interesting and plan a career as a government employee."

'Green Belt' It!

WE TOLD YA SO — Yes we did! As early as last spring we said BARTD would shelve that Daly City terminus station.

This paper even went so far as to publish a picture of the elevated station BARTD designers had in mind for this area. But right now it looks like Daly City can forget about any station for the next three years, at least! And this being the case, why can't someone (preferably BARTD) clean up that 13 acre Knowles Avenue site and make a green belt out of it for the people living in the area. DO SOMETHING

NEWLY ELECTED CHAMBER president Ello Fontana is coming in like a lion with all sorts of proposals, including establishment of a long-needed boy's club in the city; bigger (and better we imagine) chamber facilities staffed by a full-time office girl; and a school committee (we don't have enough already??)

How many of Fontana's ideas will materialize during the coming year is a subject for short discussion. But the vigor in which Fontana tackles anything he undertakes is awesome, indeed. We'll wager he'll chalk up 99.9 per cent come next year. Any takers?

THAT HELICOPTER PROPOSAL emanating from the County Manager's office is going over like a lead balloon. Most COPs (chief of police) either back slowly away from the idea or sum it up with just two words: "No Thanks!"

Can't ya just see a chopper patrolling your neighborhood around midnight? Anyone that tells you those police helicopters were silent tell them you're from Missouri — you gotta be shown.

Not only will they wake you up, they'll likely alert crooks long before they arrive in the area. And how in the world do they spot a burglar at night? Personally, we think this is the Great Put On of 1969.

Shelley Concerned With Garbage

BEVERLY HILLS... Shelley Winters has a voice louder than Martha Raye and Tallulah Bankhead combined. She also has a heart to match.

We were in Coldwater Canyon Saturday night at the home of United Artists vice president, Herb Jaffe, for a post-preview party of "Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell." Shelley may share acting honors with Gina Lollobrigida, Phil Silvers, Telly Savalas, Peter Lawford and Lee Grant, but no one can out-talk her at a party.

She's marvelous fun, bright and interested, gregarious and vivacious. Her voice is only part of the actress' exuberance. Get her started on politics (she campaigned extensively for Robert Kennedy and later traveled half way across the nation with Hubert Humphrey) for real animation.

"The Democrats want me to change my legal residence to New York and run for office but I'm not interested at this time. I think kids all over the world don't want this contest between capitalism and communism if the price of either is getting killed," she expounded to a wide circle of admiring colleagues.

"Listen, I said to Jack Valenti, don't you dare give this picture a mature audience rating. It's the first clean part I've done in years. They want me to be the Exhibitionist (not to be confused with the novel The Exhibitionist) but I don't know. There are some scenes I wouldn't want my 16-year-old daughter Vittoria see me do."

"Jeez, how can I have a 16-year-old daughter when I'm only 26 myself," she joked.

"WELL, I'VE WRITTEN A PLAY. It's the toughest thing in the world and I sure admire writers. It's called 'The Noisy Passenger' and the Actor's Studio has done the first and third acts in their workshop. Now they've asked for it at UCLA, but I'm having second act problems," she added.

Sticking to one subject for more than a few sentences isn't Shelley's forte but even in erratic conversation with her, you can tell she's a loving, caring, big-hearted woman. She's also temperamental and highly emotional.

"I think Howard Hughes is trying to discourage gambling in Las Vegas. He's trying to make it into a jet set playground, a Disneyland with circus for adults. If you couldn't beat the gambling system before, you certainly can't now."

Shelwin Productions is her own company. They'll soon do "The Cages," on which she collaborated with author-playwright Saul Bellow, and played in off Broadway.

"It's about polluted air and other cages man is putting himself into. Then I want to buy the story 'Bellissima' which Anna Magnani did in Europe years ago. It's about a woman with an ugly child. But she thinks he's beautiful and wants to get him into the movies. A real heart breaker."

What other causes does she champion?

"Just think about this for awhile," she (more or less shrieked, which is her normal speaking voice), "half of the world population goes to bed hungry and five per cent of the world has a serious garbage problem."

Safety Laws Costly

Two years ago, when Congress passed the highway safety act, the idea was to promote highway safety in the various states through federal incentives. The act listed 13 recommended federal safety standards for state legislatures to consider.

The states have responded with what is probably the largest number of safety acts seen in any similar period. Tightening of periodic automobile inspections, more stringent drivers' tests, special laws for motorcycles and tougher penalties for drinking drivers are some subjects states have acted upon.

Administering this new crop of laws costs money. To find out where it is heading, costwise, the Department of Transportation asked the states for cost estimates. With most of the replies in, it appears total state spending on highway safety will rise from a current $2.5 billion a year to $4.5 billion by 1976.

That's a fair piece of change, but if it really produces a significant reduction in the high rate of deaths, injuries and damage on the nation's highways, critics will be few. It will be a test of the theory that sufficient laws backed by a large enough outlay of tax funds can make safety on the highways a reality.

'They Also Ran'

"What you said in last week's paper about Richard Nixon was interesting," a man said to me, "but what about Hubert Humphrey? Is he to be forgotten by the people who wrote books?"

No, historians and novelists never forget men who run for President. Colorful men, like Hubert Humphrey live in literature long after they die physically.

Moreover, a new edition of Irving Stone's "They Also Ran" with chapters about Humphrey, Goldwater and others is needed and may soon come forth. If not, a new title giving the same information is needed and will, no doubt, be published.

"They Also Ran" gives crisp profiles of statesmen, generals, judges, lawyers, governors, and other who ran for President and were defeated. Each profile attempts to picture the times when the man was a candidate and to analyze the reasons for his defeat.

THE CANDIDATES are grouped "according to those analogies which give history a fascinating plot structure."

"The truth can sometimes be seen more accurately at an oblique angle than head on" the author writes. So, Stone discusses Stephen A. Douglas, who lost a heart breaker to Lincoln, and James G. Blaine, who suffered defeat at the hands of Grover Cleveland, in a chapter entitled "Main Chance Politics." In a like manner the other candidates are grouped by their similarities.

"DOUGLAS' PICTURE is drawn with the skill of a novelist, but above all he had charm and personal warmth. His tremendous personality excited people: once they had met him or heard him talk they remained excited about Stephen A. Douglas the rest of their lives... He was a perennial Fourth of July sparkler, an effervescent soda pop that never lost its bubbles."

In "They Also Ran," author Stone is both kind and severe.

Of Thomas E. Dewey he writes, "He is a paragon of virtue in the tightest Sunday-school tradition and in deadly earnest, but he could not be as dull as his press agents make him out to be: no man could be that dull and stay alive. Dewey's mind is a refrigerated storage vault of facts and figures which can be taken out a week or a year later, thawed and digested."

But he wrote that Wendell L. Wilkie was a rare spirit, and a bright burning fire that when he died, Mr. Stone writes, "the world was a little colder and a little darker."

"THEY ALSO-RAN" has been double-starred in many lists of notable books.

Surely, a chapter about Hubert H. Humphrey should be added.

'Bay Used for a Cesspool'

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors recently took what may be viewed as a great step forward—for San Francisco.

The board unanimously approved a resolution calling for the "city that knows how" to quit dumping raw sewage into the Bay—within 12 years.

Even that was hedged carefully. The resolution avoids any commitment for the city to pay for the necessary sewage treatment facilities, estimated to cost as much as $355 million. It says the money "must be derived from revenue sources not presently available" to the city. Just what that means, you guess with us.

This action—if it can be called that—by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors points up the unequal treatment accorded communities surrounding the Bay by the state government.

The Water Quality Control Board and its predecessor, the Bay Region Water Pollution Control Board, have been trying for years to get San Francisco to do something about its lack of sewage treatment facilities. But the board's persuasion has mostly brought no response at all. This time, it has brought a response that would be laughable were it not such a serious matter: a resolution calling for doing within 12 years what should have been done at least 50 years ago—if somebody else puts up the money.

The Water Quality Control Board and its predecessor have not taken brush-offs from jurisdictions other than the City and County of San Francisco. The board has been extremely insistent, even threatening when it appeared necessary, for correction of sewage facilities in all the counties surrounding the Bay—except San Francisco.

Largely as result of its efforts, numerous sanitary districts in Marin and other counties have spent millions of dollars, put up by the taxpayers, to lay sewer lines and build sewage treatment facilities.

It is ironic that the various conservation groups which have worked themselves into a dither over the possibility of someone's filling a few acres of smelly swamp anywhere along the Bay's shores have seemed unperturbed over the fact that San Francisco, a city of three quarters of a million people, continues to use the Bay as its cesspool.

The City of San Francisco has never had an adequate sewage disposal system. It started polluting the Bay before James Marshall discovered gold at Coloma. It has been at it ever since.

San Francisco has floated bond issues to rebuild a temporary 1915 fair building, to build a baseball park for a New York-capitalized ball club at probably the most miserable location that could be found anywhere in the Bay Area, and for many other similarly superfluous purposes.

BART Terminal Political Pawn?

By FRANK LAPIERRE

The Daly City terminus station for the 75-mile BARTD system has become a political pawn in a game that has already been played for more than three years.

Thursday, BARTD directors moved their final piece into position and have apparently checkmated this north San Mateo County city in its quest for an underground rapid transit station.

Unanimously, the directors moved to stop the line less than a mile short of the 13-acre station site at Knowles Avenue in Daly City and build a "turnaround track" across the boundary in San Francisco.

This would mean that trains would only go as far south as the Balboa Park station now under construction.

The district plagued by financial deficits that now total more than $147 million, have insisted over the past year that they cannot afford to build an underground station in Daly City. Cost of such a facility would top $5 million — some $3 million more than engineering estimates — and would be located in an area that is not even in the bonding area for BARTD.

(San Mateo voted to withdraw from BARTD several years ago.)

But Daly City officials have repeatedly expressed concern over station design and compatibility with other systems that might connect with BART and go down the Peninsula.

The West Bay Rapid Transit Authority (WBRTA) is now studying final plans for a rapid transit system for the county and is expected to make public their findings in a series of public meetings starting in spring.

If the BARTD line is terminated at Balboa Park, BARTD will be "cutting its own throat" some Daly City officials feel.

Daly City offers ample parking and space for expansion as the line grows. It likewise offers ready access from as far away as Pacifica and, closer, the burgeoning population of the now-developing Serramonte housing tract. It would also offer a convenience to the San Bruno Mountain area once it starts development.

Four months ago at a joint meeting of BARTD directors and city officials, a discussion was held on the matter and it was decided that BARTD would study the proposals made by Daly City and report back to Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lyett before any action was taken.

"This just hasn't been done... we haven't heard anything from them (BARTD)," City Mgr. Edward Frank said.

Youth Nabbed in Freeway Chase

An on again, off again auto chase along the Junipero Serra Freeway ended Sunday night with the arrest of Barry Clark Walle, 19, on charges of car theft and possession of marijuana.

Daly City Police Officer Martin Lively started pursuing the car after the driver acted suspiciously while driving through the Westpark section of the city. Instead of stopping as Officer Lively flashed his red lights, the suspect speeded up and tried to evade the patrol car, according to police. Lively succeeded in stopping Walle near the Alemany on-ramp to the freeway and as the officer approached the suspect's car on foot. Walle allegedly jumped back into the vehicle and sped off once again. Following a high-speed chase down the freeway, Lively again succeeded in halting the car near the Geneva Avenue off-ramp. Police said Walle also had a marijuana cigarette on his person at the time of his arrest. The stolen car is owned by Jose Noel Lopez, of 150 Irvington Avenue, Daly City.

Humble Pancake Graduates to the Dazzling Festive Board

"From the ridiculous to the sublime" might well be the story of the pancake's long and colorful life. The humble pancake has traveled from the lowliest of beginnings in the Stone Age, to a nation's breakfast tables, to the most dazzling of festive boards in courts the world over.

The pancake has been flattened, leavened, rolled and even flamed, and it has emerged triumphant as everything from daily staple to the epitome of exotica under the glamorous, if imposing, title: La Crepe.

Crepes Curzon, a variation on the traditional Crepes Suzettes, will provide a blazing climax to your evening. The batter is prepared in advance of your dinner, so you can relax with your guests until dessert time, then spring your piece de resistance: flaming Crepes Curzon with a heady aroma of banana and brandy to spark the late evening's conversation. Crepes Curzon will assure your coronation - by consensus as Queen of your Castle.

CREPES CURZON

Ingredients: (Crepes)

1 cup all-purpose flour

1/4 cup sugar

Pinch salt

2 tablespoons melted butter

Ingredients: (Banana Filling)

3 firm bananas, diced

orange rind

Juice of 1 small lemon

1 cup applesauce

1/4 cup dark rum

To Make Crepes:

Sift flour, sugar and salt. Beat

mixture into dry ingredients.

Beat in melted butter. It may be necessary to beat in a little

cream and should coat a spoon.

Preheat an 8 1/2-inch electric fry-pan. Pour about 1/4 cup of the

necessary to butter your frypan

- in fact, your results are better if you don't.) Quickly rotate pan so that batter covers the bottom evenly. Brown on one side, turn and brown the other side. Turn your crepe out of the

ing. Cool and stack.

Recipe makes 12 crepes.

If desired, you may freeze crepes until you are ready to

paper. Freeze. When ready to

heat in a 300-degree F. oven until warm.

To fill with Banana for Crepes

Curzon:

Combine bananas, orange

and sugar in the 8 1/2 inch electric frypan. Cook, stirring, over low heat until sauce bubbles and thickens. Fold crepes in halves. Spoon filling along the edge of the crepe and roll in the

crepes in a 10 1/2-inch electric frypan. Garnish with a spiral of

buffet table and set on warmer.

and pour over crepes. Allow to warm briefly and then set afire.

Split Almond When Warm

To split whole blanched almonds lengthwise into halves, spread them out on shallow pan, place in moderate oven until they are pleasantly warm to the touch. While warm, they split easily with a knife. Split almonds are good for candy brittle and toffees, and are very decorative on frosted cakes or baked on ginger cookies.

Coffee Cake With Juicy Cherry Fill

"Hot from the oven" home baked coffee cake bubbling with plump juicy cherry filling is sure to bring raves from family and friends. Cinnamon and sugar add to the delightful mouth-watering flavor and aroma.

This beautiful coffee cake is delicious, and simply prepared using frozen ready to bake bread which is available in the frozen food section of your local market.

This convenient frozen dough (when thawed according to package directions) can be used to make not only this lovely Cherry Coffee Ring, but also any yeast dough favorite - Danish coffee cake, cinnamon rolls, or just plain rolls!

CHERRY COFFEE RING

1 loaf (1 lb.) frozen ready to bake bread

Butter or margarine

1 cup cherry pie filling, about half a can (1 lb. 5 oz.) of cherry pie filling

1/4 cup sugar

1 tsp. cinnamon

Place frozen loaf in a plastic bag (use bread bag) or spread with melted butter or shortening to keep surface moist. Thaw until soft and pliable at 90 degrees

F. to 150 degrees F. (1 hr. or more) or thaw in the refrigerator overnight (8 to 12 hours).

Only lightly floured board, cut

Grease a 1 1/2 quart ring mold

with butter or margarine. Pour cherry pie filling in the bottom.

Mix together cinnamon and sugar. Dip pieces of dough in sugar

layer in ring mold or square pan. Let rise (90 degrees F. to

Bake 350 degrees F. about 25 minutes. Invert immediately on serving plate. If any cherries or sauce remain in dish, spoon them over the coffee cake. Sep-

grapes, gathered at the peak of their flavor, are ready to be

cious sauce for cake.

Cake freshly baked, cut into

ready for a coffee klatch, a sup-

snack, provides one of those great anytime desserts. A faint

whipped cream adds a light topping to give style to an ordinary

juicy sweet and plump, make

FLUFFY GRAPE SAUCE FOR CAKE

1 package (3 1/2 ounces) instant lemon pudding

1 1/2 cups milk

1 cup heavy cream whipped

2 cups halved and seeded black grapes

1/4 cup minced maraschino cherries

Prepare and bake cake mix

according to package directions.

Pour batter into a greased and floured 9x13 inch pan. Bake as

rack. Cut cake into 3-inch squares. Combine pudding and milk. Beat until smooth and let stand until pudding thickens.

and cherries. Spoon sauce over cake squares. Makes 12 servings.

Big Market In Burgers

How big is the hamburger market? There are 32 nationwide hamburger franchise chains doing a big business. It's estimated 200,000,000 Americans eat approximately 70,000,000 hamburgers a day.

About 50 per cent of these hamburgers are eaten away from home with the family car serving as transportation vehicle and dining room.

While no one is quite sure, Georgia's famous Country Captain recipe was probably an East Indian dish first introduced to the British by a captain of the sepoys. These were the East Indian soldiers commanded by the English during their long occupancy of India. Georgian legend, however, states quite unequivocally that one day many years ago a captain of a spice trading ship sailed into Savannah and left the original Country Captain recipe with friends there. However obscured in story the origins of Country Captain may be, today there are many good variations of this famous chicken dish. This recipe is one of the best, we feel. You may find that because so many of the foods in the dish are familiar to kids — chicken, tomato sauce and raisins — it may be a good one for introducing the unfamiliar flavor, curry, that gives Country Captain its distinctive taste. Canned tomato sauce with tomato bits, a relative newcomer to your grocer's shelves, makes preparation of the curry-flavored sauce a snap. Tomato sauce with tomato bits is really two products in one — smooth-blending tomato sauce and chopped tomatoes.

COUNTRY CAPTAIN
1 broiler-fryer (3½ pounds), cut up
½ cup flour
Salt
Pepper
½ cup pure vegetable oil
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
2 cans (8 ounces each) or 1 can 15 ounces tomato sauce with tomato bits
1 cup water
2 teaspoons curry powder
6 servings hot cooked rice

½ cup seedless raisins or currants
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds
Fresh parsley, snipped
Coat chicken with flour lightly seasoned with salt and pepper. In skillet brown chicken in oil; remove chicken. To skillet add onion, green pepper and garlic. Cook until tender; pour off fat. Return chicken to skillet along with tomato sauce with tomato bits, water, curry and 1 teaspoon salt. Cover; simmer 45 minutes or until chicken is tender. Toss rice with raisins; arrange at one end of heated platter. Arrange chicken on other end of platter. Spoon some of sauce over chicken; pass rest. Sprinkle almonds and parsley over all. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Luncheon Topic—A Pretty Ring

When a hostess serves an attractive luncheon dish, it's certain to start conversation. And that's a good way to entertain successfully at any party.

Noodles, cottage cheese and sour cream make a pretty ring for serving a pink-flecked creamed meat combo, diced ham or luncheon meat with cream-colored sweetbreads. This is really an a la king dish with its mushrooms, green paprika and pimiento bits.

Start it off with broiled grapefruit, complete the main course with asparagus salad and tiny biscuits and jelly, then top it off with a Cherry parfait.

CREAMED HAM AND SWEETBREADS

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
5 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Simmer sweetbreads 20 to 25 minutes in water to which salt and vinegar have been added. Drain and plunge into cold water. Remove a nd membrane. Break into small pieces. Brown the ham, green pepper and mushrooms lightly in butter or margarine. Stir in the flour. Add milk, sweetbreads, pimiento, salt and pepper. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Serve with Cottage Cheese Ring. Six to eight servings.

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Cook noodles according to directions on package and drain well. Combine noodles, cottage cheese, sour cream, egg, salt and pepper and mix well. Pour into greased 1¼-quart mold. Bake in a slow oven (300 degs. F.) 30 minutes.

Zippy Pork For Season

Snap out of seasonal doldrums with food seasoned in zippy fashion!

One idea would be to serve Piquant Pork Chops. The mildly flavored pork is teamed with garlic, tomatoes, a bit of rosemary and onion. Cooking, covered for approximately 45 minutes, allows the flavor to develop to its fullest.

PIQUANT PORK CHOPS

6 pork rib or loin chops, cut ¾ to 1-inch thick.
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 small clove garlic, minced
1½ cups canned tomatoes
¼ teaspoon rosemary
¼ cup chopped onion
1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Dredge chops in flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add remaining ingredients. Cover tightly and simmer until done, approximately 45 minutes. Thicken sauce with flour left from dredging chops, if desired. Six servings.

A Pumpkin Pie Spiced Just Right

It's always fun to serve something new and unusual, but when the family members make their requests, it's frequently for an old favorite. Today, many of the old, traditional foods are in greater demand than ever before. For who could resist the lure of a hearty stew, pot roast, homemade bread or pumpkin pie?

With the fall season here and the fun- and family-filled holidays just ahead, pumpkin pie will definitely be in the limelight. And here from Betty Crocker is a rich, hearty pumpkin pie in the very finest of family traditions — Old-fashioned Pumpkin Pie. Cinnamon, ginger and cloves combine with pumpkin, eggs and evaporated milk to make a "spiced just right" pie that's certain to please all the members of your family. The recipe for this deliciously smooth, golden pie can be found in a new cookbook — Betty Crocker's Pie and Pastry Cookbook. This colorful book contains more than 300 recipes — some excitingly new and others deliciously traditional — for appetizers, main dishes and, of course, desserts. So, surprise everyone soon with Old-fashioned Pumpkin Pie that tastes like a treasured and traditional family recipe.

Old-Fashioned Pumpkin Pie

8-Inch Pie

Pastry for 8-inch one-crust pie

1 egg
1 1/4 cups canned pumpkin
2/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves

1 1/4 cups evaporated milk or light cream

9-Inch Pie

Pastry for 9-inch one-crust pie

2 eggs
1 can (1 pound) pumpkin (2 cups)
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves

1 2/3 cups evaporated milk or light cream

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Prepare pastry. In mixing bowl beat egg(s) slightly; mix in remaining ingredients and pour into pastry-lined pie pan. (To prevent spills, fill pie shell on oven rack or on open oven door.) Bake 15 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees. Bake 8-inch pie 35 minutes longer and 9-inch pie 45 minutes longer or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool. If desired, serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Sauce Helps Steak Dish

A savory round steak will be both economical and filling — and, of course, tasty.

Saucy Round Steak

Steamed Rice

Broccoli Salad Bowl

Chocolate Cake Beverage

SAUCY ROUND STEAK

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained

1 can (13 ounces) Swiss-steak sauce

With a meat hammer or the edge of a heavy saucer, pound the steak. In a large skillet, melt the butter. Add steak and mushrooms and brown meat on both sides. Pour sauce and red wine over meat. (Alcohol in wine will evaporate during cooking.) Cover; simmer, stirring occasionally, until tender — about one hour. Makes four to six servings.

Mincemeat Creole

Dreaming of New Orleans—its beauty and its continental atmosphere, but most of all, its Cajun cookery? Translate such whimsy into delicious reality with this shrimp creole from the Borden Kitchen... shrimp pungent with the tantalizing spices and smells of mince meat, dappled with the ruddiness of tomatoes and the greenness of fresh pepper. And it's less work than meets the eye: the mince meat is ready-to-use right from the jar. No more wearisome mincing, peeling, and dicing.

Shrimp-Mincemeat Creole

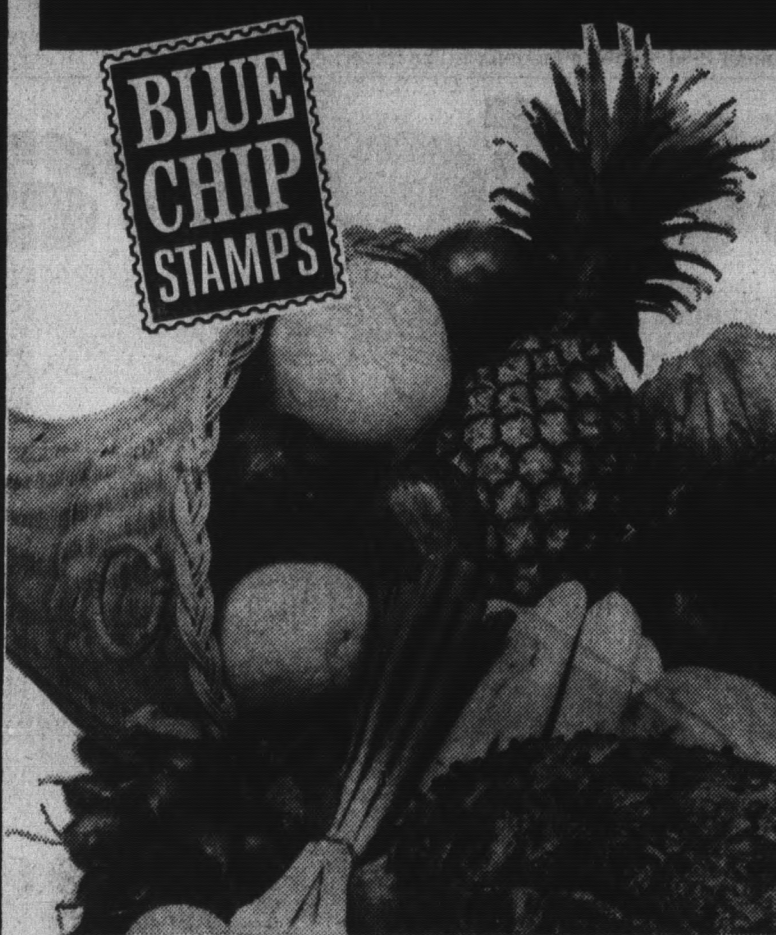

(Makes 6-8 servings)

1 pound shrimp, uncooked
3/4 cup chopped onion
1 cup coarsely chopped green pepper
1 cup coarsely chopped celery
1 cup uncooked long grain rice
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1-1/8 cups (one-half of 28-oz. jar) Borden Ready-to-Use Mince Meat
2 cups (1 lb. can) whole tomatoes
1-1/2 cups boiling water

Shell and devein shrimp. Do not cook. Wash and split each shrimp in half lengthwise. In a large skillet over medium heat, heat oil. Sauté onion, green pepper and celery 5 minutes, or until almost tender. Add shrimp; stir briefly. Add rice, salt, pepper, mince meat, tomatoes and boiling water. Mix well. Pour into a buttered 2-1/2 quart casserole. Cover. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven, 1 hour or until liquid is absorbed and rice is tender. (Add a little more boiling water if necessary.) If desired, garnish with chopped parsley. Serve immediately.

In order to get the best performance from athletes, coaches should insist that they drink more water than their thirst demands, and as frequently as possible.

The above idea, I am sure, will shock some athletic coaches and others since most of us have been brought up on the concept that too much water in the belly will waterlog a man and he will not be able to perform.

The reverse is true. An athlete's performance is severely limited if he loses too much body weight through sweat and his performance begins noticeably to decline when he has lost only 2 per cent of body weight. This, for a 200-pound football player, is only four pounds; and for a player who is putting out any effort at all, he will lose four pounds and more by the end of the first half. For him to go out and perform well in the second half is hopeless since he doesn't have enough blood volume left to stick in your eye.

Or this, from another Army medical research report: "Voluntary dehydration, measured under field conditions in walking men, ground crews, tank crews, and flying personnel often amounted to 2 to 4 per cent of body weight. Such dehydrations are sufficient to limit the physical performance of the men. Since under the most favorable circumstances men tend to voluntarily dehydrate, they should be encouraged to drink more water than they want, especially during periods of prolonged activity."

Dehydration places a stress on the circulatory system, partly because of the decrease in blood volume. This stress is reflected in rises in pulse rates and of body temperature. External symptoms include generalized discomfort, fatigue, apathy, low morale and unwillingness and inability to undertake strenuous activity. These symptoms become evident after the dehydration has reached 2 per cent of body weight.

Enough said? I certainly hope so. And forget about salt tablets. They have had their day and fortunately have disappeared from view in most places. What happens is an athlete has already lost a lot of body water and it draws water from the blood just to metabolize the salt and meantime the athlete is losing more sweat so it's a vicious, useless circle. For his general needs he'll get enough salt with his meals; and milk, fruit juices, and other foods will help him get water in his system away from the game or practice. But on field, push that water!

A Parfait Kids Like

Here's a quick and easy recipe idea suggested by home economists for a child-pleasing Chocolate Parfait that's a perfect treat for party-time or just plain good eating time.

Pour two cups of chocolate milk drink into a bowl. Add 1 package (4 1/2 oz.) of instant pudding mix.

Beat slowly with a rotary hand beater or at low speed with an electric beater for five minutes. Fold in one cup miniature marshmallows and one-half cup chopped salted cashews. In parfait glasses, alternate layers of pudding mixture and 12 chocolate wafers, coarsely broken. Chill. Garnish with whipped cream and whole cashews.

Creamy Sandwich

The best hospitality is usually easy for the hostess yet an eloquent example of her ingenuity. To give such a hostess a hand the Borden Kitchen created these creamy good sandwiches of soft Camembert cheese dashed with reconstituted lemon juice, paprika and sweet Spanish onion, all on robust pumpernickel.

Camembert Onion Sandwich (Makes 8 sandwiches)

- 1 cup vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup reconstituted lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- Dash black pepper
- Dash paprika
- 2 (4-oz.) packages Borden Camembert Soft Ripened Cheese
- 1 large Spanish onion (about 1 lb.) peeled and very thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup butter
- 8 slices pumpernickel bread

In a medium-size bowl, combine oil, lemon juice, salt, sugar, pepper and paprika. With a fork, mash or crumble cheese into oil mixture; blend well. Gently place onion slices into oil-cheese mixture. Cover; marinate onion slices overnight in refrigerator. To make sandwiches: Drain onions and cheese; spoon mixture evenly onto buttered bread. If desired, garnish with paprika.

Foster's Holiday Fruit Cakes Now Available

I. A. Suetzle, merchandising manager of the Foster Lunch System, reports Foster's famous holiday fruit cakes are now available, and are on sale in all the Foster's restaurant bakery divisions. Attention, account executives: Foster's fruit cakes, which are packed in attractive tins, make ideal Christmas gifts. Operating at peak capacity for the past few months, the South San Francisco Holiday Inns' major 80-room expansion is due to premier November 18. Food and Beverage Manager Claude Schroeder is wondering what he is going to do with the extra business. One of the most popular dishes served at Doros, award-winning lunch and dinner house in San Francisco, is their Chicken Saute with Risotto Milanese, an exclusive at Doros. Those beautiful tapestry table cloths at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco cost $78 each and can't be washed — they must be dry cleaned!

The annual San Mateo County's Sheriff's Ball was held in the upstairs ballroom of Millbrae's Thunderbolt Hotel, last week. Sheriff Earl Whitmore, Jack Stuart of the District Attorney's Office, and many other San Mateo County law enforcement officers were in attendance. Dance music was provided by Rick Hackett and his orchestra. A hundred guests attended a gala twenty-fifth wedding anniversary party for George and Madeline Alfinito, whose family owns Rudolfo's in Palo Alto. The honored couple were toasted with many glasses of champagne. Attending were Art, Harry, Rudy and John Alfinito, their families, their mother, and dozens of well-wishing friends and relatives who enjoyed a lavish buffet spread. Lew Lehr and Edith Lehr are back at their Marina steak spot, Lew Lehr's, after a sunny vacation at Palm Springs.

Comedian Jerry Collins, the only comic to admit to stealing from Milton Berle, opened Monday in the Playroom of the San Francisco Playboy Club. Appearing with him is song stylist Bobbi Hill. The Skylarks bustling cocktail lounge will be open Thanksgiving Day, but the dining operation will be closed. Jim Bell mentions that the entire Bell clan will enjoy a day off. Rhodes English Fish in Chips, located on South "B" Street near the Greyhound Bus Depot, features authentic English Fish and Chips for just one dollar and a variety of soft drinks. A welcome addition to the San Mateo dining scene, Rhodes enterprising franchise owners, Maybelle and Fred Andriani, both with show biz backgrounds, invite you to try the Fish "n" Chips recipe that has pleased the taste buds of the Queen and her Royal Court. For a Japanese food treat, make a noonday luncheon or evening dinner visit to the Fuji Sukiyaki in downtown San Mateo. Eat in or take out, the delicately prepared dishes are the greatest.

Vince Licata Is Study In Green

The "Dapper Dan" vote of the week goes to Vince Licata, the Italian and Seafood restaurant operator, who was seen going into the executive offices of Joe Cohen at Bay Meadows Race Track strikingly attired in a green sport coat, a blending green shirt, accented by a roll of green in his wallet. Incidentally, Vince, the Las Vegas Caesar's Palace men's shop shows green alligator shoes. Have a good trip

Here's a little "turkey rumor" from Stickney's of San Mateo which could very well come true. Manager Robert Hoffmeyer, who was requested to make a Thanksgiving Day dinner reservation for a party of 30, suggested a family-style feast — with an appointed guest carving the turkey right at the table (leftovers to be bagged for take home). The group thought this an excellent Thanksgiving treat. Hoffmeyer pointed out to your Bright Lighter that in addition to the regular Thanksgiving dinner, if he receives reservations from groups, he will supply a tender Fresno turkey prepared for carving at your table, plus all the trimmings — from soup to dessert. If you, too, like the idea, let Manager Robert Hoffmeyer know by calling 344-6311 for reservations.

Montara Gets Into Green Valley Annexation Dispute

Pacifica and Half Moon Bay, who have been fighting over territorial rights to scenic Green Valley, found they had company last Wednesday.

Calvin C. Maule of Montara, president of the Montara-Moss Beach Improvement Association, told the Local Agency Formation Commission in Redwood City that a proposal for incorporation of a new city, to include Green Valley within its boundaries, will be submitted soon.

LAFAC directors warned Maule that formation of another small city on the coast might find rough going before the commission but urged Maule to go ahead and submit his proposal as soon as possible.

Maule said he was speaking as an individual and not as president of the community association, which has been split in the past between incorporating a new city, annexing to Half Moon Bay, or retaining the sta-

There are only some 3,000 residents in the Moss Beach-Montara area now but the population is expected to increase many times over with the Doelger subdivision development.

The county commission is attempting to establish "spheres of influence" — logical expansion areas for each of the county's 16 cities.

Action on a proposal by Half Moon Bay to annex most of the area included in the Cabrillo School District has been delayed by LAFAC until the spheres for Pacifica and Half Moon Bay can be delineated. The procedure has been complicated by Pacifica's insistence that Green Valley be included in its sphere. Now, with the possibility of a Montara-Moss Beach incorporation, a three-way fight looms.

Underlying the jockeying for Green Valley is the question of whether or not it is to become a fill-and-cover garbage and refuse dump. Pacifica and the county want the dump there. Half Moon Bay officials and most of the residents of Moss Beach and Montara are opposed to the project.

Robert Keyes, head of the community development department for the city of Pacifica, told LAFAC directors Wednesday that Pacifica does not want to annex Green Valley at this time but wants a continued study of its use as a disposal site.

Members of the commission urged Keyes and City Manager Fred Paxton of Half Moon Bay to arrange a meeting of the city councils of the two cities to try to work out their differences. They agreed but Keyes predicted that any such meeting would end in conflict.

The hearing on the spheres of influence was continued to 2 p.m. January 15.

Honor to Scout Leader

The South San Francisco Girl Scouts Association campout recently at Big Basin State Park had a surprise ending for Mrs. Hale Porter of 814 Hiller Avenue.

The active scout leader was presented with the "Thanks Badge" in appreciation for the work she has done on behalf of the Association and scouting.

The Thanks Badge, gold medal with a royal blue ribbon, is the highest honor which can be awarded to an adult in Girl scouting. To achieve this honor the applicant's name and qualifications must be submitted to the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council. The council carefully screens the request before giving final approval.

Starting her "green career" as a unit leader in day camp, Mrs. Porter became leader of Junior Troop. She advanced with them into the then newly-revised Girl scout program for 12-14 year olds as Cadette Scouts. Under her guidance and encouragement these same Cadettes successfully completed plans for a trip to Washington, D.C. as part of a government study. In 1966, when there wasn't a troop available to high school girls in San Bruno and South San Francisco, Mrs. Porter volunteered to become adviser to the newly-formed Senior Girl Scout Troop.

These girls with Mrs. Porter's guidance, participated in a two-week trip to Mexico, serve younger scouts in troops, hold annual Cadette Camporees, explore their vocational interests and serve their communities in various activities.

"Ginny" Porter also assisted in the formation of the South San Francisco Girl Scout Association, which involves all girls and adults in the community. She has served the Association as a delegate to the Council and is presently Camp Coordinator.

As a staff nurse at the annual Senior Conference at Asilomar, she served as a counselor for the "Arts in the City" Conference in San Francisco.

Ex-Brisbane Mayor Draws a $500 Fine

Former Brisbane Mayor Dale E. With was fined $500 in Superior Court today for his conflict of interest in illegally doing business with the city while serving on the city council.

Judge Melvin E. Cohn concurred with With's attorney, Clarence Knight, that serving a week in jail, as recommended in the probation report would serve no purpose.

Knight noted that With has a "clear record, not even a traffic ticket," that all things were "done in the open."

He said that the probation report failed to state that the prices paid for city hauling and excavating done by With's son, Merle, were those set by the Public Utilities Commission. With didn't understand things as he should have, the attorney stated, and he made no money on the transactions, which Knight termed a "very technical crime."

Knight contended that the fine would be "more than adequate" punishment and cited the "humiliation" With has suffered as a result of the publicity regarding the crime.

With pleaded "no contest" to the misdemeanor charge of conflict of interest after eight felony counts were dismissed.

Judge Cohn expressed little regard for the probation report, stating "some parts give me concern" and adding that it contained innuendos and insinuations "better left out."

However, the judge stated, With was "certainly unwise morally and legally" and set a "bad precedent for a public official."

The jurist concurred that sending With to jail would serve no purpose, but said he would certainly have fined him more than the statutory limit of $500 if he could.

With was given one week in which to pay the fine. He was not placed on probation.

Shot Is Fired In Car Lot

A San Francisco man was arrested yesterday after he fired a shot from a .25-caliber automatic pistol over the head of a female companion during an argument at a Daly City used car lot, police say.

Angelo Phillip Gutierrez, 34, of 354 Columbus Avenue, San Francisco, allegedly fired a shot over the head of Willey Bernice Gray, 43, at a used car lot at 6791 Mission Street about 11:30 a.m.

Miss Gray, who told police she lived with the suspect in San Francisco, crumpled to the ground between two parked cars after the shot was fired.

Both suspects ran north on Mission.

Gutierrez was later found hiding in a doorway at 6524 Mission Street. After his apprehension, police found a .25-caliber automatic and a hat in the same doorway.

The slug fired at Miss Gray smashed through the wall of a nearby home at 6789-A Mission Street and was found by investigators imbedded in a kitchen wall.

The home's occupant, Mrs. Judy A. Muller, was in another part of the house at the time of the shooting, police said.

Gutierrez was arrested and charged with several counts stemming from the weapon, including firing into an occupied residence.

Action Ads Get Results

It would cost you
$2,700 just for postage to reach every home which will receive
The Times today

This is just our sneaky way of demonstrating the low cost of classified advertising in The Times. The Times will go into 45,000 homes in San Mateo County today. Multiply that figure by six cents and you get the cost of reaching the same number of homes by mail.

In addition, it would cost you an extra $4,680 for postage to reach the 78,000 homes that receive The Post, San Mateo County's largest weekly newspaper.

Yet a Times' Classified "Action Ad" costs you only $2 for 2 lines for 4 publications (for articles under $35) and $3 for 3 lines for 4 publications (for articles under $75). It is such a good buy we just had to brag about it!

Call the prefix below nearest your home and a courteous ad taker will assist you in placing a result getting "Action Ad."

S.S.F. Woman Arrested In Check Case

A 28-year-old South San Francisco woman was arrested by San Mateo police on Saturday after she allegedly attempted to pass a bad check at a Hillsdale department store.

Doreen E. Johanson, who told police she was a housewife living at 1212 Edgewood, was taken into custody at the Emporium at about 4:20 p.m. after a clerk became suspicious of the check the suspect tried to use in payment for a purchase.

Investigation disclosed about $1,100 worth of bad checks for the Emporium and Macy's, police said.

She was taken to city jail. Bail was set at $1,250 by Judge Thomas B. Caldwell.
